NATIVES in the Fiji Islands are dying out, for the queer reason that they no longer go to war. In war times they were always on the alert, in fine physical condition. Now with no fighting they sink lose ambition, die off.

HUMAN BEINGS are strange animals, in the Fiji Islands and here. Psychologists tell you that this nation will deteriorate rapidly, if we continue, as at present, living free from anxiety and real effort, the majority of us. A few worry, and struggle, Heaven knows, at the top and bottom of the ladder. But the majority of us drift along, taking life easily. Times are good, almost any sort of man or woman can get a job and then keep it by using half or one-quarter of his or her ability.

That is called "getting by," in the language of shirkers, but is really getting stale and running to seed.

NO COLT could become a real race horse, if he never "extended himself," never gave out all the force in him.

Human beings have come up from mental and physical depths, by desperate and constant striving and struggling. When they settle down to "taking things easy," they will lose energy and value. Forces are kept alive only by using them.

In this country five million young men really think hard—just twice a year, Spring and Fall, when the new hat and coat must be chosen.

EVERY Tuesday morning you read the papers to see how the week opened in the Stock Exchange and who won the prize fights.

On Monday morning you read the papers, to see what clergymen have fought with other clergymen and what they have fought about.

IT WAS a busy day in the pulpit last Sunday. Dr. Guthrie of St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal Church in New York City defended his position on the "Christ Myth."

Dr. Straton, who believes in everything, from the whale swallowing Jonah to Joshua stopping the sun, in November, around the earth, says that the Modernists are mushy.

THE REVEREND DR. GRANT even says that heretics have certain rights that should be respected.

That's better than burning the heretics, and more pleasing to the religious ideas of 1924. But these new religious notions, as Modernists will learn, are different from a well-known cigarette. They do NOT satisfy. The old lady said: "If I must drink it, give it to me hot and strong," and that's how many feel about their religion.

IT DOESN'T pay to make children work too hard. What they need in youth is warmth, affection, exercise, good food, long sleep. Heavy learning can come later.

You have read about William James Sidis, the boy phenomenon, who at eleven years of age was in Harvard University debating with professors on the

INJUNCTION PETITION REJECTED BY COURT

Justice Braley Rules He Has No Power to Halt Fare Increase

Commuters cannot prevent the 20 per cent. increase of commutation fares on New England railroads, which became effective at midnight last night, Justice Henry Braley of Supreme Court ruled today.

He heard a petition asking that the Public Utilities Commission and the Boston & Maine Railroad be restrained from proceeding with what commuters term a "fare gouge." The petition was brought by a delegation headed by Charles A. Coughlin, Medford Alderman, acting in the role of a citizen.

The courtroom was crowded, the proceedings brief.

C. A. Coughlin

After a series of questions, inquiring particularly as to why there was such a hurry putting the increase into effect, it only being granted by the Utilities Commission four days ago, Justice Braley ruled that as the statutes stand today the court is helpless to upset a decision of the Public Utilities Commission unless on a question of law.

NO QUESTION OF LAW.

"As there is no question of law raised in these proceedings," said the court, "the act of the Public Utilities Commission in granting the railroads the increase is final.

"This court, as the statutes stand today, could not rule on the commission's decision as to the justness of the increase."

He intimated to Alderman Coughlin and Lawrence Brooks Medford city solicitor, who acted as counsel for Coughlin, that in order to remedy the situation they would have to have the present law revamped.

Husband Appeals For Her to Return

Searching for Missing Helpmeet, Who Vanished After Quarrel

MRS. MADGE SMITH

YOUNG WIFE GONE AFTER LOVE SPAT

The husband, Patrick J. Smith of Newark, N. J., tobacco salesman and World War veteran, is frantically searching for her.

They parted at Back Bay station, when about to leave for home after visiting friends in the South End.

According to Smith, it was one of those sudden petty quarrels that occur in the life of the average young married couple that caused his wife's pretty eyes to flash in anger. Then, without a word, she turned and walked away.

The train that was to take them back to Newark drew in. The wife did not reappear. Smith decided to remain and search for her. That was Saturday noon.

Not a trace of her has been found by Smith. He has tramped day and night visiting lodging house after lodging house in his search.

"Madge, if you want to come back you will find me at No. 47 Warren avenue, ready to receive you with open arms."

That is the message he asked the American to impart.

The wife is twenty-five years old, five feet nine inches tall and weighs 175 pounds. She is of dark complexion, has blue eyes and black hair.

ARMED BAND GETS $26,000 IN BANK

St. Louis, Jan. 15.—Six men armed with revolvers entered the West End Trust & Savings Bank today and after firing several shots to intimidate employes, escaped with $26,000 in cash.

HUSBAND OF NINA SEEKS DIVORCE

Tells Lawyers to See if There Are Grounds for Action; Wife Goes South

New York, Jan. 15.—Robert J. Sanderson, husband of Nina Wilcox Putnam Sanderson, whose decree of divorce obtained in a Rhode Island court was recently vacated, in a formal statement today said he had instructed his attorneys to begin an investigation to "determine whether grounds exist on which I should bring an action for divorce against my wife."

The brief statement concluded as follows:

"In fairness to her, the public should suspend its judgment until the facts are known."

Nina Wilcox Putnam has said good-bye to New York, after the most hectic week she has ever experienced in the metropolis, and started for Florida.

She checked out of the Hotel Netherland and her five bags were taxied to a railroad terminal an hour later.

Nina Wilcox Putnam

Miss Putnam refused to reveal her exact destination, but it was learned she would not go immediately to Delray, where her orange grove is located. She will rest for a time within motoring distance of Palm Beach.

Left behind in New York is Ellsworth Bassett, the author's former business manager, whose employment by Miss Putnam brought both into an uncomfortable entanglement. Bassett left his home town, Madison, Ct., Saturday in the automobile of his friend, Judge A. W. Marsden. The former clamdigger and house painter declared he was headed for New York "to hunt a job."

FLEES WITH BABE FROM HOSPITAL

State-Wide Hunt Started for Mystery Woman Who Steals Newborn Infant

Springfield, Jan. 15.—Social welfare agencies in New England and state investigators are making every effort to trace a six-months-old baby that mysteriously disappeared less than two hours after birth in the custody of a woman who gave a fictitious name and address.

Judge Wallace R. Heady has enlisted State aid in effort to find the infant and establish the identity of the mystery woman so that the little one may be legally adopted.

BORN JULY 15.

The baby was born July 15, 1923, in a private hospital on Northampton avenue. A well dressed woman, giving the name of Harriet Winstone, No. 360 St. James avenue, Springfield, called at the hospital shortly after birth of the child seeking to adopt a new born babe to replace one of her own that had died three weeks previously.

Mrs. Cornelius Hayes, superintendent of the hospital, recommended the baby just born. The stranger left in a limousine, going to a lawyer's office where adoption papers were drawn.

LAWYER ADVISES.

The lawyer advised her to appear in Probate Court three days later.

Returning to the hospital she got the baby and drove off. The child was then less than two hours old.

The woman has never since been seen.

When action to determine the father of the child finally came to trial it was disclosed the mystery woman gave a false name and address.

Not only is Judge Heady anxious to locate the child, but its mother prays daily for its safety and that she may see it.

Unemployed Stage Demonstration as Parliament Opens

London, Jan. 15.—Marching bands of unemployed today tramped toward the Parliament buildings with banners and a haphazard collection of musical instruments just before the arrival of the Royal party. They were turned back by mounted police, no demonstration occurring.

After the King and Queen had returned to the palace and the celebrities of state in their dazzling array of crimson and gold had left for home in their limousines and carriages the unemployed were permitted to carry on their appeal to the population through their music and placards.

GEORGE CRAM COOK DIED OF GLANDERS

Athens, Jan. 15 (AP).—George Cram Cook, author, playwright and founder of the Provincetown Players, is dead at Delphi. He succumbed to glanders contracted from a pet dog.

The cablegram gave no details of Mr. Cook's death, which occurred January 10, but Miss Huffaker later received a letter from Mrs. Cook, dated December 15, in which she said her husband had been ill for some time with intestinal trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook went to Greece two years ago.

REPORT 50 DEAD; BIG DAMAGE

Railroads and Communications Disrupted; Tokio and Yokohama Badly Rocked

Tokio, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Fifty persons are believed to have been killed in Tokio, Yokohama and the outside districts in an earthquake today, while many persons were injured. No casualties among foreigners have been reported.

Tokio, Jan. 15 (I.N.S.).—Tokio rocked today to a tremendous earth tremor, the greatest since the disastrous earthquake of September. The shock occurred at 5:45 a. m., before the inhabitants had started the fires for breakfast. Reports of the damage were slow coming in.

Telephone and telegraph lines were disrupted and communications in all directions disturbed. Three trains en route from Gomemba to Tokio were derailed and the water supply cut off.

Rail service between Tokio and Osaka was also disrupted, but the extent of the damage to this important connection over which relief and reconstruction supplies are still being carried has not been reported. The prince regent sent an airplane sion of the hearing, said he would immediately file a bill with the Legislature asking that the powers of a Public Utilitels Commission be modified.

"If at that time," he said, "there are no questions of law raised as to the fare increase, I shall dismiss the petition for an injunction."

The Boston & Maine Railroad was the only road mentioned in the commuters' petition, although the increase is granted the other two roads.

This was to link one road with the Public Utilities Commission as a test case. If the commuters had won they would have proceeded against the New Haven and Boston & Albany.

Many bills filed in the Legislature directed against the fare increase bore fruit. The Senate adopted an order asking the Public Utilities Commission to rescind its decision outhorizing the increase.

CHARGES GAG RULE.

Alderman Coughlin in his petition to the court charged that the public hearings before the Public Utilities Commission were arbitrarily and unlawfully closed without giving him an opportunity to present his case or to secure the information he desired from the railroads.

Alderman Coughlin asked that the Boston & Maine railroad be required to answer fairly the interrogatories he presented to them and which, he charges, they failed to answer and were not required to answer by the commission.

If these interrogatories are answered, Alderman Coughlin is confident the commission will modify materially its fare-increasing decree.

A motion by Senator William I. Hennessy of Dorchester seeking the suspension of the new rates pending investigation, was referred by the Senate to the House and then sent to the committee on railways. Senator Hennessy also introduced an order asking an opinion of the attorney-general whether the case should be reviewed by the Supreme Court.

Despite attempts to prevent it, the twenty per cent. increase in fares went into effect today.

All passengers on the Boston & Maine, New Haven and Boston & Albany roads using 12-ride tickets and commutation books are affected. There was a big rush at the last minute to take advantage of the old rates.

Thousands of passengers on all three roads stocked up on tickets that will be good for use until February 1. On and after that date, unless some action is taken by the courts or legislature, tickets sold under the old rate will not be accepted by conductors on any of the three roads.

The fact that the Public Utilities Commission did not file its decision until four days before it was to become effective was considered as clear proof of the attitude of the board in the matter. That the railroads were all prepared for a decision in their favor was clearly indicated by the fact that they had new tickets ready for sale today.

WILL HURT EDUCATION.

"The increase passenger rates is economically wrong," said Attorney William J. Holbrook of No. 55 Kilby street, to an American reporter. Mr. Holbrook appeared at the rate hearings as town counsel for Weymouth, by order of the selectmen.

"The increased rates will have a tendency to drive families from the country towns and suburbs into the congested city," he added. "It will also hurt the cause of education by raising the fares of students in outlying communities who desire to come to Boston.

"In my opinion the New Haven Railroad did not prove a case entitling the road to allowance of its petition. There was no evidence as to the value of the transportation property in the fifteen-mile zone and there was no evidence that the revenue from passenger traffic in that zone did not yield an amount which would be considered fair and adequate return on the amount invested in that zone."

UNFAIR TO 15 MILE ZONE.

"It is also my opinion that if the revenue from transportation in that fifteen-mile zone was in fact sufficient to give a fair return on the property invested it is obviously unfair to make the patrons in the fifteen mile zone contribute towards the liquidation of losses accruing to the road for transportation 200 miles away from that zone.

"The Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad charges about one cent a mile for passenger service with a minimum of five cents and a maximun of ten cents and pays well. Yet it does not tap any better territory than the New Haven. If the Revere Beach & Lynn road can make a substantial profit on about a cent a mile, why can't the New Haven, Boston & Albany and Boston & Maine in the same type of territory? It is evident that the riders in the fifteen mile zone are being asked to carry along other burdens of these roads."

According to members of the Utilities Commission, the new commutation rates within the fifteen-mile zone from Boston are about the same as those for the same number of miles out of New York city.

Chairman Attwill said he did not consider the service out of New York, including tunnels, electrification of trains, etc., any better than out of Boston, or worth any more than the service from the Hub.

He said the Commission did not base its new rates here on the New York rates, although they are almost identical. He said the high price of coal and the fact that New England roads are "terminal roads," with short hauls, had more to do with fixing the new rates than a comparison with New York rates.

He pointed out that Bostonians are really getting a better deal than New York commuters because they may purchase twelve-ride tickets, whereas New Yorkers must buy fifty-ride books to get reduced rates.

FISHERMAN SINKS CREW RESCUED

Word has been received at the Charlestown navy yard by wireless that the fishing schooner Annie M. Parker, out from St. John's, Newfoundland, was sinking off the Grand Banks, 200 miles out to sea, and that the members of the crew had been rescued by the S. S. Grooteneyk.

That young gentleman is working now, as a clerk, at $23 a week and doing his "higher mathematics" on a cash register. He says he hates the name of Harvard; he is discouraged, and from a published interview he appeared to lack the greatest of assets and mental courage. It's easy to take ambition out of a human being by over-forcing in childhood.

W. J. BRYAN'S "unknown" candidate for the Presidency is Professor Murphree, able head of the University of Florida.

It is safe to assume, if Mr. Bryan indorses him, that Professor Murphree is against the theory of evolution and believes that all kinds of men, microbes, animals, horses with one toe or four toes, dinosaurs, hippopotamuses, okapis, 500 kinds of fleas, 10,000 kinds of snakes, 100,000 kinds of beetles, and bugs, and all the others were created separately and individually by the expressed will of the Creator and were all in the Ark together.

It is not impossible, since all is possible to Omnipotence, but it must have been an uncomfortable Ark, especially with so many kinds of fleas and snakes.

FRENCH FRANCS, dropping violently yesterday, can be bought now 100 for $4.23. Last Saturday it was $4.65, a week ago it was $4.91, a year ago it was about $6.

Italian lire, on the other hand, are very strong and going up in price.

THIS DROP in francs is a serious matter for the French nation and for all Europe. The collapse of another nation's money to the disappearing point would hurt everybody.

Belgium, tied up with France in the recent mirage hunt for 30,000,000,000 of reparations, is even in worse condition, the Belgian franc selling yesterday 100 for $3.98.

IN FRANCE, the law says you must bury all criminals executed. Lately they have thrown a few shovels of earth on the coffin, then taken it up and given the guillotined body and head to medical students.

Newly killed bodies are valuable for experiment. In our prisons, here, doctors cut them up as soon as they are killed by electricity, and while the tissue still lives.

IT'S AN unpleasant subject, but any intelligent man might be glad to have his body useful to others, after it has ceased being useful to him.

One student in Paris was disappointed when they took his body away. He thought he could make the heart beat even without the head, and meant to try.

There are many bodies going around on earth in which the heart is beating without much assistance from the head. Dante told of bodies walking around on earth, while their souls were really Down Below. Here he talked with them. Satan could not wait for them to die.

QUAKE IN JAPAN

FOREIGNERS HURT.

Several foreigners jumping from Imperial Hotel windows are reported to have sustained broken arms, scratches and bruises.

The Tokado Railway Line, an important rail artery of Japan, was reported damaged, the track having dropped three inches.

A number of Japanese are reported to have been killed near Yokohama, where houses crashed over their heads. It is believed the centre of the earthquake was farther south in that vicinity.

No wind was blowing and this assisted firemen in checking the few fires that started in isolated sections. They were aided by the fact that many areas were not built up since their destruction last September. The water supply was cut off with the first shock.

The quake derailed part of a freight train at Totsuka, near Yokohama, and threw an engine off the track in Omori, a suburb of Tokio. All railway lines between Hiratsuka and Chigasaki were broken.

EMPEROR SAFE.

Communication between Tokio and Kobe was cut off. The express from Kobe was stopped at Kozu, owing to damage to the roadbed.

The centre of the earthquake is believed to have been near Tanzawa Mountain, in Sagami province. At the Central Observatory its duration was recorded as twelve minutes.

Reports here state that the Emperor and the Empress are safe at Numadzu, despite widespread destruction in that city, in which many houses are said to have been shaken down, the imperial villa, located at Numadzu, was not damaged, however, the reports state.

The area of greatest damage is said to have been between the towns of Gotemba, which is about eighty miles southwest of Tokio, and Koozu, and southward in the vicinity of Hakone, according to reports received over a single railway line kept in operation by the Kobe Railway Bureau between Tokio and Honshu.

Slight damage was suffered by the district between Tokio and Koozu, advices from this source stated. The quake was felt at Nagoya, about 200 miles southwest of Tokio, in the Province of Owari, and in Shizuoka, in Suruga Province, along Suruga Bay.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The latest Japanese earthquake as recorded on the Georgetown University seismograph continued for almost two hours and reached its maximum intensity between 6:45 a. m. and 6:50 a. m., Tokio time.

Father Tondorf, in charge of the instrument, reported that the first tremors were picked up at 6:15 a. m. and that they continued until about 8 a. m.

Mrs. Roosevelt Calm as Quake Shakes Hotel

Tokio, Jan. 15 (I.N.S.).—"Don't mind this, it is not so bad."

She was speaking to her Japanese attendant at the Imperial Hotel. She refused to leave her bed and remained calm throughout the excitement.

The courtyards there quickly filled with pajama-clad folks, but there were no casualties in the American community, the greater portion of which has been housed in this hotel since the quake.

However, the shock was severe enough to open up great cracks in the walls and floors of the building, which withstood the ravages of the great disaster.

The American Marines at the American Embassy had loaded their trucks with wrecking tools and were ready to render any needed assistance before the last tremors of the quake had died away.

3 MORE ARRESTS IN STOCK SWINDLE

Salesmen for Wellington & Co. and Lynn Branch Manager Taken by Police

Three men alleged to have been connected with the stock swindling operations of Wellington & Company, brokers of No. 101 Milk street, were arrested on indictment warrants by Police Inspectors Farrell and Hagerty.

Philip Victorson, who gave his address as Southern Boulevard, New York city is charged with the larceny of $16,450 from various persons through bogus stock transactions.

He is alleged to have been a salesman in the employ of Wellington & Co.

Nicholas Covett of Brockton was arrested on an indictment warrant charging him with keeping a bucket shop. He is said to have been the manager of the Lynn branch of Wellington & Co.

James Kane of Maxwell street, Dorchester, was also arrested on an indictment warrant charging him with keeping a bucket shop. He was formerly employed in the Milk street office of the firm.

The arrest of these three men brings the total number of arrests in connection with the Wellington & Company investigation to five. Archie Jeannette of Dorchester and George Alexander of Haverhill, former salesmen for the firm, were arrested more than a week ago.

Joseph M. Konwiser, under whose name both Wellington & Company and the T. J. Day firm operated, has not been found by the authorities.

Nightly "petting parties," where liquor flowed freely, in an apartment on Commonwealth avenue, Allston, in which men and women interested in the get-rich-quick operations of the firms were guests, are alleged by the police to have figured prominently in the stock transactions of the two firms.

Wellington & Company, together with the T. J. Day brokerage firm, was closed when investigators acting under orders from District Attorney O'Brien learned that customers had been mulcted of more than $1,000,000 by the two firms.

WARNS FRANCE MUST YIELD TO STOP CRASH

Berlin, Jan. 15 (Copyright, 1924, by I. N. S.).—"Europe will go to smash within six months unless France and Germany get together and form an industrial amalgamation in which France's interests will be engaged in behalf of Germany's recovery and prosperity instead of Germany's ruin."

This declaration was made to International News Service today by Arnold Rechberg, German Industrialist, who has just returned from Paris, where he had long talks with Premier Poincare, Marshal Foch and others and where his famous "Thirty Per Cent. Plan" was debated in his presence in the French Chamber of Deputies.

SINKING SCHOONER'S CREW OF 10 RESCUED

A radio from the S. S. Grooteneyk, in which the ship reported having taken the entire crew off the sinking fishing schooner Annie M. Parker, 200 miles off the Grand Banks, has been received at the Charlestown Navy Yard. Details are meager. The Anne M. Parker was out of St. John's, Newfoundland, and carried a crew of ten men.

The steamship Galileo, from Aberdeen for New York, sent a wireless that she had picked up the crew of the wrecked Lunenburg schooner J. W. Comeau.

The J. W. Comeau, from Lunenburg for Barbadoes, with lumber, was last reported afire on January 9.

LABORER DROPS DEAD AFTER EATING MEAL

Michael Kelly, 45, a laborer of No. 188 Sumner street, East Boston, dropped read of heart failure, brought on by indigestion, in the Maverick Lunch, at No. 14 Maverick square, today. He is survived by a brother, John Kelly, of Brighton.

Kelly had just finished a repast and was rising from the table when he fell to the floor. He was removed to the East Boston Relief Hospital, where he was pronounced dead by Dr. Holland.

2 MEXICAN AIRMEN KILLED; 1 CAPTURED

Mexico City, Jan. 15 (By Radio via Fort Worth Star Telegram.) (AP).—Two Federal army aviators were killed and another was captured by the rebels. Aviators Espejal and Moreno were killed when their plane crashed in a flight over Mexico City, and a pilot and a government machine proceeding toward the Vera Crus front were taken by the rebels when he was forced to land near Esperanza Puebla.

SEIZE 16 IN GAMING RAID ON CLUB ROOMS

Sixteen men were arrested and cards, dice and furniture seized by police raiders in a club room at No. 15 Brattle square. The men were charged with being present where gaming implements were found. They were locked up at City Hall avenue station by Sergeants Purcell and Sullivan, who led the raiders.

OUTLAW LIQUOR GANG IS HUNTED

Head of Rum Runners Believed Operating Between Boston and Montreal

Montreal, Que., Jan. 15.—A war which has been raging since 1913, between a gang of outlaw criminals and the authorities of the entire west coast of the United States, may come to an end almost any day somewhere between Montreal and Boston.

Four of the members of this outlaw band are already behind bars in various cells, in either California or Washington, but "Seattle Slim," known by many aliases to the underworld of Frisco, Seattle, Portland, Ore., and even Chicago is still at large.

When "Seattle Slim" escaped the dragnet he is known to have headed East and even Canadian cities were asked to join in the continent-wide search being made for him.

According to the authorities here, it is believed that the chief of this dangerous gang is one of the leaders in a ring of bootleggers using Montreal as their headquarters, with Farnham, Que., as a local base.

From these places "Seattle Slim" and his band are suspected of running rum across the border into New England cities as far as south of Boston.

W. A. BRADY RE-ENTERS MOTION PICTURES

New York, Jan. 15 (Universal.)—William A. Brady, theatrical producer and once a conspicuous figure in the film industry, is planning to re-enter the motion picture field. He will begin operations almost immediately at Fort Lee, N. J., using the Paragon Studios, where he worked before.

Wm. A. Brady.

His first picture will be Robert Keable's "Simon, Called Peter." Mr. Brady also has film rights to "Forever Afterward," "The Things That Count" and "Chains," which he plans to produce with the cast used in New York headed by Helen Gahagan.

Mr. Brady's resumption of activity is considered another sign of the drift eastward of the film industry.

Robbers Leave Man With Nothing but Union Suit

Attleboro, Jan. 15.—Joseph Marks of Water street, New Bedford, appeared at the Attleboro Braid Company mill on Read street, South Attleboro, and told a watchman that he had been beaten and robbed by six men who drove him in a car from Pawtucket. Marks was clad only in his union suit. His clothing was found in the woods near the road later in the day.

HEIRS OF SHOE MAN FREE OF $100,000 TAX

Court Finds George E. Keith Made Gifts in Good Faith

Brockton, Jan. 15.—Harold C. Keith, Brockton shoe manufacturer, and the grandchildren of the late George E. Keith, need not pay the $100,000 levied against them by Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long as an inheritance tax on 7,000 shares of Walkover Shoe. The stock was presented to them by the elder Keith five months before his death in 1920.

In the Plymouth County Probate Court Judge Lloyd E. Chamberlain finds that George E. Keith was in good health at the time the gift was made and no premonition of his death, which followed an operation.

H. C. Keith offered evidence that when the transfer was made his father was planning a trip abroad and desired to place a controlling interest in the business in his son's hands.

TO PROBE DEATHS OF WORCESTER BABIES

Worcester, Jan. 15.—A committee of seven will be appointed to investigate the crushing to death of two babies in an elevator accident in the Worcester City Hospital. An order passed by the City Council demanded the probe.

Councilman James J. McGrail introduced the order, which was passed almost without debate. The investigation committee will consist of the presidents of the Board of Aldermen and Common Council, two aldermen and three councilmen.

BOY INJURED IN STRUGGLE WITH HEAD TEACHER

Armed ith Stones, Fell and Hurt Leg, Declares Allston Principal

Details of an occurrence in the Thomas Gardner School in Allston, in which Lawrence Maretta, 14, of Portsmouth street, North Brighton, received an injury to his right leg, has become known. It is said the injury was received when the boy was sent to the office of the headmaster, Charles F. Merrick.

Mrs. Maretta said her son is unable to walk and an X-ray is to be taken. She said she knew what happened, but declined to give her version.

Headmaster Merrick said he summoned the boy to his office on complaint of a teacher, and when the lad appeared he had a rock in one hand and more stones and a glass inkwell in his pocket.

Mr. Merrick said the boy exhibited a belligerent attitude. The headmaster, convinced the boy intended to harm him with the rock, ran toward him and grasped both his arms, said Mr. Merrick. The boy fell and said his leg was injured. The headmaster said the boy admitted he carried the rocks "to get" Mr. Merrick. He deplored the incident, and said that the boy's injury was entirely due to an accident. Another teacher was in the office and witnessed the whole affair, he declared.

CONSTABLES BLAMED FOR COURT DELAYS

If constables, whom he said worked by the week for Boston collecting agencies, were denied the right to serve processes in civil court cases, and only sheriffs and deputy sheriffs allowed to perform court duty, the trial lists of Municipal Court would be cut 25 per cent. during this year, according to Attorney Alonzo E. Yont.

Mr. Yont's suggestion was one of the many discussed by more than 100 members of the bar called into meeting by Chief Justice Bolster, to determine some means for clearing up the docket lists. Judge Bolster appointed a committee of five members with Wilfred J. Gaffney as chairman to work out a plan which will expedite civil business.

COUNT WON OVER HEIRESS' PARENTS IN JIG TIME, HE DECLARES

BALK PLAN TO RUSH RICH GIRL ACROSS ATLANTIC

New York, Jan. 15.—Everything's jake.

Count Ludwig von Salm-Hoogstraeten, the "Wild Boy of Europe," who gave American Romeos a headache by wooing and wedding beautiful Millicent Rogers, heiress to Standard Oil millions in just eleven days, has fixed it with her parents.

He said so today. Hustling out of the Ritz-Carlton the handsome daredevil count intimated he "took" the countess' parents in quicker time than he had taken her.

"In two minutes," he said, "I fixed everything. My wife and I have been in communication with Colonel and Mrs. Rogers, but they do not wish us to say anything for publication. We are all getting a bit tired of this publicity." He lit a gold-monogrammed cigarette and prepared to depart.

COUNT ISN'T BROKE

The count winked and tapped a pocket significantly. "Out to buy my bride some jewelry," he replied. "Really, I'm not as poor as they think me."

With his best military carriage he strode out of the hotel and headed for Fifth avenue.

"Handsome devil," said a big-eyed blonde at the Ritz cigar counter. The count is all of that. He is described as absolutely irresistible. While the parents of beautiful Millicent Rogers made all sorts of fuss about the hasty marriage of their daughter to the "Wild Boy of Europe," the story of his capture of the heiress was buzzed over tea cups in Manhattan's upper strata today.

MET AT SHERRY'S

On December 28 there was a meeting at Sherry's of the fashionable Monday Evening Opera Club. The much-courted Millicent attended. Likewise (if rumor is correct), the equally courted Count Salm was present.

They met. They danced. By the end of the evening their friends were making sly little charges of infatuation—charges that the merry young Millicent and the victorious count eleven days later swore to the city clerk were perfectly true.

They met December 28.

They married January 8.

Eleven days.

But time enough for Colonel and Mrs. Rogers to have discovered "a very annoying situation," from which they made swift plans to remove their daughter.

PARENTS FLAMED UP

More than once before Mrs. Rogers (whose friends insist they know) had whisked the lovely Millicent back and forth across the Atlantic out of reach of unacceptable applicants for her hand.

By this time she was decidedly in love. The count, expecting some months earlier to have married Mrs Grace Sands Coffin—member of an old Knickerbocker family, loftily placed long before the days when H. H. Rogers, Millicent's grandfather, struck upon the Standard Oil and millions—had his divorce certificate ready in unimpeachable form.

COMPLIED WITH LAW

They simply took matters into their own hands, journeyed to the Marriage License Bureau, and got a license giving their correct names and those of their parents in such a fashion as to comply with the law without revealing at once their identities.

This was last Tuesday. They drove back to the Ritz-Carlton, where Colonel and Mrs. Rogers have their town home and where Count Salm also had lived since his arrival here last May.

The young couple told what they had done, and Colonel and Mrs. Rogers vanished, leaving the wedding to be announced by their lawyers, Larkin, Rathbone & Perry.

It also developed, through inquiry at the Surrogate's office, that the Rogers' heiress, through provision in the will of Henry H. Rogers, her grandfather, is of independent means.

CLOSETED WITH BRIDE

Just how the dashing count appeased Colonel and Mrs. Rogers isn't known. Late Monday they acted anything but reconciled to the wedding. The bride's father sent his secretary to the Ritz-Carlton, where that gentleman was closeted with the bride for more than an hour. The interview was followed by the irresistable "Milly" sending reporters a note saying she was "darned sorry" she didn't have something to tell them.

Within two weeks they may return, society hints, for by then Count von Hoogstraeten and his bride expect to be on the high seas, Jimmy Thompson. ous honeymoon." In France the "count will later engage in practice for the Olympic games, in which he will help represent Austria at tennis. He will also visit his ancestral home near Vienna. There lives his mother.

JILTED WOMAN SAILS

Mr. Grace Sands Montgomery Coffin, who had expected to wed the dashing count, even up to two days after he had wed beautiful Millicent Rogers, will sail for Europe tomorrow. Accompanying her will be Mme. Traini, a French writer, who has been in this country three years and who figured prominently in the news of the count's marriage. In fact, she helped assuage the grief of Mrs. Coffin when that beautiful lady fainted in the lobby of the Ritz at news of the count's marriage.

TEXAS GUINAN

Incidentally, if Mrs. Rogers, Millicent's ma, feels put out at her daughter's hasty marriage to the nobleman and former cavalry officer, society pointed out today that she is suffering retribution for breaking up a love affair of her daughter's with a handsome young American, Jimy Thompson.

RUSH OF WOOERS

The matron, ran the story, viewed with decided alarm the prospect of having young Jimmy Thompson in the family and urged her daughter to take a trip to Paris for the purpose of purchasing her trousseau for the Thompson event, apparently yielding to the wish of the daughter to marry Thompson, while forming a canny plan to take her mind off of the young American through a display of foreign titles and graces.

As a part of the program, many titled men rushed the daughter of millions. Three of them were reported to have been engaged to her. The Count St. Just was the first to come to her feet. Then Count Obbelensky, the Russian nobleman, followed in the train. He gave way to the Prince de Spolito, a cousin to the King of Italy.

England came at length into the procession of events, and the foreign papers made much comment over the selection of Miss Rogers by the Prince of Wales as a dancing partner.

And while the Rogers expedition to kill the Thompson love affair was progressing, the Count, slipped into the game and she came to know the "wild boy of Europe."

PALS OF COUNT WHEN HE WAS GAY SPENDER

PEGGY JOYCE

COUNT SALM

FERN ANDRA

Best Spender on Broadway, They Say of Count Salm

The first authoritative description of Count Ludwig Slam Von Hoogstraeten's midnight frolics among the bright lights of Broadway was supplied by Texas Guinan, actress.

Miss Guinan, noted as a hostess, was Count Slam's feminine mentor in advising him about the gay white way. She called him "Count Slam."

Whereas certain persons have intimated that the gay count was in Broadway parlance, "a nickel nurser," Miss Guinan characterized him as one of the "loosest bankroll companions" in the history of New York's night life, she said, her blue eyes twinkling with reminiscences.

"They say the Count was a Forty-second street sheik. They say he made love to the ladies. Let me tell you, as one who knows, that the ladies used Leap Year methods on him and made love to him."

"His almost nightly entrances into the gold room were sure to bring members of the social-register army in with him. If all the ermine coats that the Count escorted into the gold room were gathered together, they would fill enough express cars to require two mogul locomotives to haul them."

Miss Guinan proclaimed the count the most affable man in decades. She went on:

"If he is as polite to his wife as he was to the ladies who hovered about his table and clung to his every word," he will have to be introduced to the countess every morning.

"Why, when he clicked his heels and bowed it was a picture. Chesterfield was an imitation Beau Brummell, a selling plater! Those heel clicks happened so often and so accurately that one might have imagined a machine gun was in the house."

"Tips of $100 were not at all unusual with the Count. He couldn't have been broke, as he claimed. I don't know where he got the money, but I know where he spent it."

Count Salm Boycotted in Europe for Love Affairs

Berlin, Jan. 15 (Universal).—Count Ludwig Albrecht Constantin Maria von Salm Hoogstraeten, who married the Rogers heiress in New York was a well known figure in the Viennese sport and fashion world until he was socially boycotted on account of his numerous escapades, chiefly romantic adventures with numerous ladies.

The Count spent a fortune, and afterwards experienced financial difficulties. Thereupon he embarked in divers business adventures. His last effort to connect with the movies having enabled him to appear in some minor roles. The Count also won some fame as a tennis player.

OF ANCIENT ANCESTRY.

The Count was born at [illegible] near Frankfort-on-the-Main, February 24, 1885. He is tall, brunette, broad shouldered, and dresses in the height of fashion.

He was an officer in the Austrian army, became a major in the cavalry and was dismissed after the war.

In 1909 he married Mathilde Hedwig Anne Marie von Kramsta of Reichenau and was later divorced. He has two brothers in Vienna whose names are Alfred and Otto. The latter married Maud Coster of New York in 1915.

SEIZE 3 IN RUM RAID ON PIER

Police Trap Suspects Unloading Booze From a Fishing Smack at Atlantic Ave.

That daring rum-runners have been landing liquor in Boston harbor right under the eyes of police and prohibition officials was proved today when 175 gallons of alcohol and three men were seized in a raid by police of the Hanover street station.

The names of the three men are being withheld by the police until warrants have been sworn out.

Sergeant Shorey and Patrolman Monahan of the Hanover street staiotn received a tip hat liquor was being landed in Boson harbor by fishing smacks every morning.

They made their way to the Packard pier and after a long wait their patience was rewarded when a fishing smack ran into the landing and made fast.

A moment later an auto truck pulled up at the landing and the work of unloading the smack began.

The officers waited until the entire load had been transferred to the truck and then placed the three men on the truck under arrest at pistol point.

R. I. HOLDS HEARING ON CONSTITUTION

Providence, Jan 15 (I.N.S.).—For the first time in half a century a Republican controlled commitee of the General Assembly is scheduled to hold a public hearing in the State Capitol today on the resolution of Senator Robert E. Quinn, Democrat, West Warwick, providing for the calling and the holding of a constitutional convention.

Although the Republican State leaders will appear to oppose the passage of the resolution, the fact that they have at last consented to give the proponents of the measure a public hearing is regarded by the Democrats as a concession which would not have been possible a year ago.

LODGE SPONSORS NATIONAL GALLERY

Washington, Jan. 15 (C.N.S.).—Senator Lodge today threw the strength of his powerful influence in the Senate in support of demands for the establishment of a national gallery of art in Washington. He said there is need for the erection of a suitable building to house valuable gifts of art, in order that they may be viewed by the public.

"We should have in Washington," he said, "a great national gallery comparable to the national gallery in London and to the Louvre in Paris. The national capital is the fitting site of a national gallery."

ONE-MAN CAR RAMS TRUCK IN CHELSEA

A collision between a heavy truck, carrying a large tank of fuel oil, and a one-man car of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway at Chelsea square seriously damaged the electric, almost pushed the tank from the truck and resulted in several passengers being shaken up. One man, David Gonuck of 51 Essex street, Chelsea, who was injured on the left leg, was taken home by the police.

KING URGES BILLS TO AID WORKERS

Seeks Many Benefits for Labor as Parliament Opens With Old-Time Splendor

London, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The much mooted question of how the Baldwin government, in view of the overwhelming defeat in the recent election on the protective tariff, would handle that subject in the King's speech at the opening of the new Parliament was settled today when the monarch, reading his ministers' pronouncement, referred to the country's rejection of the tariff proposals and indicated their abandonment by the government.

Mr. Baldwin thus faced the situation squarely in what is generally regarded as his swan song; but political experts beheld in this swan song a shrewd and clever effort to spike as far as possible the guns of Labor, which is expected to assume power soon.

The speech furnished one of the most extensive lists of proposed measures favorable to labor that was ever placed in a King's message. In fact, the Lapor Party itself could hardly have issued a more striking pronouncement.

King George.

The plans cited included proposals for the betterment of industrial conditions, provision for the much-needed houses for workers, amelioration of employment and the readjustment of old age pensions.

It was not that the Conservatives felt such a program would defer the day of the government's downfall, but rather that it would put them in the position of saying later: "The Conservatives would have given the people all that labor now proposes."

The King's speech added that the government and the dominions have been anxious to remove all difficulties in regard to the illicit importation of liquor into the United States and it pointed out that an agreement between the two countries on this issue was about to be concluded, a fact which should further strengthen the happy relations between Britain and America.

The opening of Parliament was marked by the same scenes of splendor and pageantry witnessed in medieval days.

Just before noon the royal coach, a gorgeous equipage of dull gold and shining glass that rocks back and forth on its great leather thongs after the manner of old American stage coaches, rolled behind the eight bay horses along the troop-lined route from Buckingham Palace to Westminster, carrying the King and Queen.

Robed in ermine, their majesties continually bowed from side to side in response to the cheers of the thousands who trooped behind the guards.

Five other State landaus, in which rode the high officers of Britain, preceded the sovereigns.

KIN WILL TAKE BOYS OFFERED FOR ADOPTION

Boston Grandfather and Two Aunts Leave for Rockland Today

Charles Argrew, Jr., six years old, and his brother George, five, offered for adoption by their father, Charles Argrew, No. 35 Summit street, Rockland, will be raised by their maternal grandfather and two sisters of their dead mother, proving once more that "blood is thicker than water."

Charles and George have lived with their father since their mother died three years ago at the birth of their baby brother, Joseph. Joseph was taken by his maternal aunts, Mrs. P. P. Mulcahy and Mrs. James A. Carney of No. 14 Sunnyside street, Jamaica Plain.

Charles Argrew

George Argrew

For three years Argrew struggled to keep his tiny family together. When he was away at work, he felt his two sons were being neglected, and when he was not employed he felt he was not providing for them properly. In his quandry, he offered them for adoption to any American family that would give the boys "the homes and education American children should have."

The two aunts read of their brother-in-law's offer in the Boston American and they held a conference with James Mulkern, No. 185 Highland ave., Roxbury, the maternal grandfather.

Today Mulkern and his two daughters will go to Rockland and ask Argrew to give them custody of the two boys.

GIRL HELD IN SHOOTING IS BRIDE

Blanche A. Bates, Providence Modiste, Weds Benjamin Dick, Theatre Manager

Providence, Jan. 15.—Blanche A. Bates, fashionable modiste, termed the "best dressed woman in Providence," and whose name was connected with that of Ernest R. Smith, wealthy coal dealer shot here last August, was married to Benjamin Dick, theatrical manager, formerly assistant treasurer at the Providence Opera House.

The wedding took place at Mt. Vernon, N. Y., at the home of Dick's parents. The engagement had been kept secret from even their most intimate friends. Miss Bates, who has a seventeen-year-old son by a previous marriage, is thirty-nine years old. Dick is twenty-five.

Smith, shot in a tunnel under the Union Station, declared he heard a woman say: "My God, I've shot the wrong man!" Miss Bates was known to have had a quarrel with Smith a week before and was questioned.

She denied a "sentimental alliance" with Smith and stated her dealings were of a "purely business nature."

The shooting bared the story of Miss Bates' rise from a $12 a week factory girl to the fashionably dressed modiste. She was divorced from John Dorsch, a Pawtucket [illegible] man, nine years ago.

LEGAL BATTLE RESUMED IN RENO, NEV.

St. Clair Divorce Suit Already Alred In New Hampshire and Bay State Courts

Mrs. Irene St. Clair of Arlington and Laconia, N. H., whose marital troubles have been aired in the courts of Massachusetts and New Hampshire, without an issue, is now preparing to go to Reno, Nev., to fight her husband's latest move to secure a divorce decree.

St. Clair, in a decision handed down by Judge McNamara at Reno will be obliged todefray not only Mrs. St. Clair's traveling expenses of $275 from Laconia to Reno, but also by the same order Judge McNamara instructed him to pay his wife $35 a week temporary alimony and $250 additional for her counsel's preliminary fees.

The St. Claire have been separated for two years. In 1923 a divorce suit was started by the husband in New Hampshire, and Valor Vallier was named as co-respondent. Mrs. St. Clair filed a cross-libel but each petition failed in winning a decree.

Mrs. St. Clair had taken the boy from her husband at Laconia to her old home in Arlington. She later won temporary custody of the child after St. Clair had entered habeas corpus proceedings to get his son back.

He went to Reno several months ago and entered another divorce petition there after establishing his legal residence.

DOROBEA GIRLS IN DANCE FRIDAY NIGHT

Ruth Fleichman

Final plans have been completed for the fourth annual dance of the Dorobea Girls, an organization composed of young residents of Dorcheser, Roxbury and Beachmont, which will be held in Dorchester Men's Clubhouse, Talbot avenue, Dorchester, next Friday evening.

The feature of the affair will be the selection of a "Miss Dorchester." Another feature will be a one-step contest, which will be open to all.

"SHOOTING JACK" MADE CONSTABLE

Chief Hayes

The Beverly board of aldermen confirmed the appointment of Chief John E. Hayes of the police department as a constable. The position of constable carries with it the authority to serve civil processes. The vote on the appointment was five to four.

Chief Hayes had also been appointed keeper of the lock-up by Mayor Whittemore, but confirmation of that appointment was put over until the board's next meeting. The board passed an order for investigation of various stories circulated concerning the Beverly police department.

MENTAL EXPERT DOES STUNTS AT HARVARD

Swiss Mind Reader Retained to Give Further Evidence of His Skill

After what the vaudevillans would call a very successful tryout, Konradi Leitner, Swiss mind reader, has been retained for a series of demonstrations in telepathy before the Harvard University department of psychology.

Herr Leitner

Herr Leitner, when he arrived in Boston last week, said the only purpose of his visit was to appear before the Harvard savants and submit his powers to the most rigorous tests.

1—Carried out the unspoken order of Professor William McDougall to extinguish one among many incandescent lights.

2—Walked to a bookcase piled high with miscellaneous volumes and took down the single book which was in the professor's mind.

3—Returning to the examination room, on being called, approached the desk and picked up the one card among a hundred that everybody else had agreed upon as the "test" card.

The tests were witnessed by Dr. Gardner Murphy, Dr. A. A. Roback, fellow of the National Research Council, Harry Nelson, assistant to Professor McDougall, and other Harvard workers in the field of psychology.

Further experiments scheduled for this week will be attended by only the Harvard experts. No reports will be made of them except through the scientific publications of the university.

TWO ATTORNEYS ORDERED DISBARRED

E. T. Bannon

New Bedford, Jan. 15.—Judge Alonzo R. Weed of the Superior Court, who ried the disbarment cases of the New Bedford Bar Association against Edward T. Bannon and Witold A. Korythowski of this city, handed down his decision ordering the disbarment of both attorneys from practice in Massachusetts. The court found both "guilty of deceit, malpractice and other gross misconduct."

XMAS BASKET FUND BOOSTERS AT DANCE

Several hundred men and women, who helped make the American's Helping Hand Christmas Basket Fund a success, were entertained at a dancing party in "The Music Box." Use of this charming dance hall on Huntington avenue, opposite Symphony Hall, was given by the manager, Walter S. Hall, who has been one of the leading Basket Fund boosters. O'Leary's snappy orchestra played for dancing from 8 until 12 o'clock.

STREET BOARD ACCUSED BY HEALEY

Councillor Charges Deceit in Reappropriation of $500,000 Fund

City Councillor William C. S. Healey charged the street commissioners with "deceiving the City Council" after it had voted $500,000 for a street laying out development in the outlying sections of the city, by appropriating it for other street purposes.

The charge was made in a discussion of the question of transferring $250,000, released recently by the decision of the Supreme Court, from the Province street widening project to makings of highways.

O'CALLAGHAN EXPLAINS.

Councillor Healey asked where the money was to be spent and at his request Street Commissioner John J. O'Callaghan appeared to represent the board.

Commissioner O'Callaghan said he thought that at least 50 per cent, or $250,000, of the Province street $500,000 fund, had been expended on that enterprise, but that he could not say where the other $250,000 would be expended.

It was brought out that the street commissioners had $1,250,000 last year for streets, including the Province street $500,000 fund.

$250,000 TRANSFERRED.

The damages award in the Province street project will amount to more than $1,100,000, Commissioner O'Callaghan estimated.

The council finally passed the order transferring the $250,000, and Councillor Healey voted for it with the reservation that the money be not spent on Province street. President Lane voted the same way and with the same reservation. Councillor Hagan voted no.

An additional appropriation of $25,000 was passed for completion of the Municipal garage in Albany street, South End.

An order for an $85,000 playground in the Jefferson School district in Roxbury passed its first reading.

MURDER-SUICIDE PACT SHOWN BY WILL

New York, Jan. 15.—The joint will of Frederick Erasmi, Jr., and his wife Lillian of Brooklyn, filed in Surrogate's Court, revealed that the murder-suicide tragedy of last week which resulted in their deaths had apparently been planned for at least a month. Erasmi murdered his wife, then killed himself.

The will bequeathed all of Erasmi's property to his father and all of Mrs. Erasmi's property to her mother in case of their death "at the same time." The joint estate amounted only to about $3,000.

Dangerous Mistake to Neglect Them; Medford Child in "Perfect" Class

"A tooth in the mouth is worth ten on a plate, and that applies to babies as well as to adults," according to Miss Evelyn Schmidt, mouth hygienist of the State Department of Public Health.

Miss Schmidt is one of the specialists examining babies at the health test being conducted in the Jordan Marsh Company Annex under the auspices of the State Department of Public Health and the Boston American.

DANGEROUS MISTAKE

"Many mothers think it is a waste of time to bother caring for a baby's first teeth because they are so soon replaced by the second teeth.

"This is a very dangerous mistake," Miss Schmidt declared. "By the time the child is six years old the second teeth are almost completely formed inside the gums and the condition of the first teeth is reflected in the second teeth. Also, the first teeth are needed for chewing and for keeping the jaws in shape.

"As soon as the baby's teeth appear, they should be cleaned with a cloth or a soft brush every day," the mouth hygienist declared. "The child can be taught to brush his own teeth very early and will enjoy having his own toothbrush.

June F. Fitzpatrick

Henrietta E. Shuman

"The teeth should be brushed every morning and night and after meals. An up-and-down motion should be used in cleaning both the inside and the outside of the teeth and an in-and-out motion on the chewing surfaces."

One 100 per cent. baby, two 99.5 per cent. babies and five 99 per cent. babies were found among the fifty babies examined the first day of the second week of the health tests.

Wanda Dorothy Ordon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ordon, No. 37 Thatcher street, Medford, is the newest member of the One Hundred Per Cent Club. The corps of examining physicians had no difficulty in agreeing with the baby's parents that she is physicially and mentally perfect.

TWO RATE 99.5 P. C.

Edward F. Cartwright, No. 34 Martin street, Medford, and Barbara C. Newell, No. 130 Jerome street, West Medford, were the two babies given a health and mentality rating of 99.5 per cent.

Those found to be but one per cent. below perfection, rated at 99 per cent., are:

June Francis Fitzpatrick, nine months old, of 123 Fells avenue, Medford; Henrietta E. Shuman, two years old of Malden; Harry V. Montague, nine-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Montague of 112 Fellsway, West Medford.

Jeanette Blanche Goldstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Goldstein, Lynn; June Frances Fitzpatrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Fitzpatrick, No. 123 Fells avenue, Medford; Ruth Olive Perigard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Perigard, No. 128 Emerald street, Malden; Frances Cohan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cohan, No. 4 Holborn terrace, Roxbury, and Harry Victor Montague, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Montague, No. 112 Fellsway, West Medford.

Percivals Are Now in Paris on Tour of Europe, Says Betty Alden

MISS ELIZABETH PERCIVAL

Miss Elizabeth Percival of Commonwealth avenue is at present stopping in Paris with her mother, Mrs. David Percival. Miss Percival, who made her debut last Winter, is an expert sailor.

Society Notes

Charles Stewart of Beacon street was the luncheon guest the other day of Dr. and Mrs. Guy C. Insdale at the Chestnut, Hot Springs.

Also from Boston at the Virginia resort is Franklin Hobbs of Beacon street, who has joined Mrs. Hobbs and Miss Rebekah Hobbs there.

By BETTY ALDEN.

MISS ELIZABETH PERCIVAL, one of last year's buds, is having a delightful time touring Europe with her mother, Mrs. David C. Percival, and her sister, Miss Constance Percival.

At present the Percivals—they have rented their town house on Commonwealth avenue—are in Paris, having arrived at the gay French capital from Nice. They are stopping at the Plaza Athenee.

Miss Percival, a tall, slender girl with blonde hair and partly retrousse nose, is quite a clever sailor, as are both her sister and her brother, David Percival, Jr. The family are prominent members of the Summer colony at Marblehead Neck.

MISS CONSUELO BATES has, I believe, returned to Paris, where she is continuing her terpsichorean studies.

Consuelo Bates

Miss Bates is the daughter of Mrs. Armistead K. Baylor of New York and the North Shore. At the time that her daughter made her bow to society Mrs. Baylor was residing in Boston and Miss Bates was made a member of the Sewing Circle of her year.

During the Summer Mr. and Mrs. Baylor and Miss Bates spend most of their time at the dance which Mrs. Herbert Foster Otis is giving at the Chilton Club for her daughter.

A few of the buds bidden to the Whitwell dinner include lovely blonde-haired Emily Sears, Alice Herrick, one of the most demure-looking buds of the season; Margaret Curtis who seems to be one of the younger set's most promising thespians, as well as popular Hannah Hallowell and Polly Webster. "Redledge," their North Shore estate at Ipswich.

Also in Paris for the Winter is Miss Mary Frances Loud, daughter of Mr. Joseph Prince Loud of West Medford. Miss Loud returned to Paris after spending the holidays at Cannes, one of the gayest Winter stamping grounds of southern France.

MRS. RAYMOND T. BAKER was among the guests whom Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Amory of Boston entertained the other evening at Palm Beach.

Mrs. Raymond Baker

Others in the company included John Gaston of Boston, Harold S. Vanderbilt—more familiarly known as "Mike" to his North Shore friends—as well as the Frederick R. Frelinghuysens, Miss Ethel Carhart, James R. Hyde and Maxwell Norman.

A CHOICE coterie of the debutantes have been invited to the large dinner which Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Whitwell are giving tonight at the Somerset Club.

The affair is in honor of their niece, Miss Mary Otis, and Miss Isabel Thorndike, daughter of the Harry Hill Thorndikes. Later the guests are going on to

ASK PERSHING TO CLEAN UP NEW YORK

Movement Under Way to Get General to Make War on Law-Breakers

New York, Jan. 15.—A movement to borrow General John J. Pershing from the United States Army to clean up New York, in imitation of the purity drive being conducted in Philadelphia by General Smedley Butler, has caused uneasiness among the violators of the Volstead law and the underworld here. A letter written by Alderman George U. Harvey of Flushing to acting Mayor Hurlburt, given publicity in the press, states that the alderman is heading a movement to that end.

Following also on the heels of the disclosure that thirteen district inspectors of police had been cited on charges by Commissioner Enright, 15,000 anxious members of the department learned that Enright, with his deputies, special deputies and honorary commissioners, had been summoned to meet Mayor Hylan in the home of Rodman Wanamaker, special deputy commissioner, tonight.

The report was current that Mayor Hylan was a factor in the mysterious charges, in which the heads of each of the thirteen police patrol districts are said to have been cited on from eight to ninety-two counts involving neglect of duty.

The Mayor declined to discuss the charges more than to say he was "greatly interested" in developments.

Cribs Being Armored to Defend Babies Against Rats

New York, Jan. 15.—Baby cribs in New York's tenement districts were being armored against assaults by sewer rats which have attacked and bitten three children in the past week.

Adele Quattrochi, who was bitten thirteen times by a rat "as large as a cat," was back in her crib after being treated at the hospital. Her mother has encased the crib in small-mesh chicken wire.

N. H. WAR SURGEON DEAD IN PARIS

Manchester, N. H., Jan. 15.—News reached here of the death in Paris of Dr. Noel E. Guillet, for years active in local social and political circles. Dr. Guillet had been suffering from heart trouble. He left Manchester in 1915 for Italy and Greece, went to Paris and became acting chief surgeon at a military auxiliary hospital. When America declared war he joined the American forces.

FRENCH BOOST ALL TAXES TO SAVE FRANC

20 Per Cent. Increase in Levies Made by Panic-Stricken Cabinet

Paris, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The French Cabinet, acting today in the financial crisis caused by the phenomenal fall of the franc, decided to increase all taxes, direct and indirect, by 20 per cent. It also decided to reduce the recoverable budget in 1924 to 5,000,000,000 francs, which will be met by this new taxation.

The collapse of the franc called forth a wail of dismay in the press this morning. The situation even appears to have undone some of the good effects produced by the Dawes speech to the reparation experts yesterday.

Critics of the government are busy declaring that they have been foretelling such a crisis for some time, if the government should fail to reduce expenses and increase receipts.

The indications are that the government now intends to follow a policy of retrenchment and it is understood that Minister of Finance Lasteyrie is to propose to the Cabinet today various measures for cutting down expenses and increasing the yield from taxation.

BELLHOP PONZI WINDS UP IN JAIL

Twenty-six-Year-Old Promoter Cleaned Up Hundreds of Thousands From Credulous

Sioux City, Ia., Jan. 15.—Frank R. Beddow, twenty-six, former bellhop in a local hotel, is in jail after a career of promotion that has cleaned hundreds of thousands of dollars out of credulous persons.

He organized real estate companies, colonization companies banking concerns and power companies. He has a $50,000 home, three automobiles and expensive offices.

He induced Judge Robert B Tripp, pioneer Yankton, S. D., jurist to loan him $31,000 on notes.

He induced five of his Sioux City friends to each sign notes calling for $10,000, "just a friendly act to comply with a technicality in the South Dakota law."

Then he obtained the signature of an Ida County, Ia., farmer to a check on a Battle Creek, Ia., bank for $10,000.

South Dakota has issued twenty-two warrants for persons in conspiracy with Beddow to loot the Citizens' State Bank. It is said that not less than half a dozen banks in southeastern South Dakota are heavily burdened by Beddow paper.

ARREST OF CASS TIGHTENS NET ON 5

Six Men Involved in Shooting of British Rum-Runner at Sea

With the arrest and arraignment before United States Commissioner Hayes of Ray Cass, former Boston fight manager, federal officials say that the net is tightening round the men who last August boarded the British rum schooner J. Scott Hankinson off the Massachusetts coast, shot the captain and cook and made their escape with several thousand dollars.

Six men participated in the robbery. Two went below decks and were implicated in the shooting of Captain Moore and the cook. For months agents of the Department of Justice have slowly but surely been piecing together evidence against the pirates.

The arrest of Cass is the first. Others are expected to follow. Cass was released in $5,000 bail, the technical charge against him being larceny on the high seas. He will be given a hearing next week.

CASS ENTERS DENIAL.

Though government officials say that Cass has been positively identified by Captain Moore as one of the two men who entered his cabin and shot him. Cass denies that he was within 100 miles of Gloucester when the pirates' raid took place.

Cass says he has been traveling between here and Cuba at various times since last Summer.

"I know absolutely nothing about the shooting on the Scott Hankinson," Cass said while he was in Deputy Marshal Tigh's office awaiting arraignment. "It was all news to me when I read it in the papers.

"If the Department of Justice agents have been looking for me they could have found me at my home with my wife and children at No. 75 Pleasant road, Somerville.

CAME TO SEE SULLIVAN

Cass was arrested in the corridor of the Federal Building when he came to meet Michael J. Sullivan, known in various circles as "[illegible]" Sullivan. The latter was detained when eight men were arrested as smugglers by Beverly and Salem police and later turned over to the Federal officers.

The eight described themselves as Joseph Koriss, Joseph Walsh, Joseph Green, Frank Patze, John Mack, John Marshall, Anthony Haines and Louis Sprang.

BAILED BY MRS. SULLIVAN

They were arraigned before Commissioner Hayes and held in $500 bail each. While no charge was preferred against Sullivan, his wife, Mrs. Sarah F. Sullivan furnished the $4,000 bail for the other eight men. She offered as security her home at No. 186 Lafayette street, Salem, valued at $30,00.

The arrest of the eight men and the capture of their boat laden with 1140 gallons of Belgian alcohol was the result of co-operation on the part of Beverly and Salem police. The Salem officer chased the alleged rum runners from the sea in a fast motor boat while the Beverly police closed in on them from the land. Shots were fired. The men at once surrendered and after being questioned by the local police were turned over to the Federal officials.

NUN SAVES 560 IN ORPHANAGE FIRE

Fall River, Jan. 15.—Five hundred children and sixty Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph's Orphanage, all in the upper floors of the building, were saved when Sister Mary of Mercy discovered a fire in a rubbish chute between the fifth and sixth floors and gave the alarm. When firemen arrived the nuns were preparing to take the children out, but the fire was quickly controlled.

Silent Girl Gone

BELLA COHEN.

Telling her teacher she had forgotten her handkerchief, thirteen-year-old Bella Cohen, freshman at the Girls' High School, left her class room and vanished.

The girl, though large for her age, is very reticent and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Cohen of No. 19 Revere street, West End, scout the theory that she ran away.

TELEPHONE TIP LEADS TO FOUR POLICE RAIDS

Liquor Laden Taxi Taken on Atlantic Avenue; Seizures in South End

A telephone tip by a girl started the liquor squad of the Boston police on a campaign that resulted in four successful raids and the seizure of liquor valued at a total of $500.

The information furnished by telephone by a feminine voice was to the effect that a taxi laden with liquor was parked in the rear of No. 363 Atlantic avenue. The police went there and found the taxi and seized seventeen gallons of alcohol and moonshine.

The raiding party then went to the Hotel Ritz at No. 419 Columbus avenue, South End, and, armed with a search warrant, went through the rooms of the hotel and seized 22 gallons of liquor and 18 gallons of beer.

Then, proceeding to No. 374 Columbus avenue, a lodging house, they searched the place and seized fifteen gallons of liquor. The final raid took place at another lodging house at No. 637 Tremont street. There ten quarts of liquor and one gallon of alcohol were seized.

ROXBURY MAN KILLED BY TRUCK

James A. Johnston, 26, single, of No. 1051 Washington street, Roxbury, died at the City Hospital the result of injuries received when he slipped and fell under the truck from which he had just alighted, on Dorchester avenue, near the Fields Corner car barns. The truck was operated by Rodney W. Sullivan of No. 30 Forrest street, Roxbury, who was held at the Fields Corner police station on a technical charge of manslaughter.

HARTFORD COUNCIL BARS ONE-MAN CARS

Hartford, Ct., Jan. 15.—By a vote of 11 to 7, an almost straight party alignment of Democrats over Republicans, the Hartford Board of Aldermen tonight voted to bar one-man trolley cars from the city six months from date. The action means an appeal to the courts by the Connecticut Company which has repeatedly been upheld and encouraged by the State Public Utilities Commission in its operation of one-man cars.

SELF CONCEIT OF TYPISTS SCORED

Girls Think of Themselves as Venuses de Milo, Boss Declares

The stenographer has told how the business offices of Boston are filled with men constantly seeking to ensnare them into love affairs. Today the American prints the second of a series of interviews with Boston business men.

Are the men always to blame? Read these stories of actual experiences of Boston employers and learn the man's side.

By A. BOSS.

I, for one man, have been reading the stenographer serial in the Boston American. As an employer I protest.

There are too many of those dear, sweet, innocent girls who come to work in next to nothing stockings and a stray aroma of perfume. Then we bold, wicked employers are accused of making advances to them.

Without meaning any offense, it is my conviction that every stenographer believes she's a 1924 Venus de Milo, irresistable to the male and therefore a prey for him.

I'm no Apollo Belvedere, but the office vamp has tried her wiles even on me and I'm slightly bald and need to cut out rich food. If you consider that homely man such as myself can write a treatise on the "steno siren" just imagine what a handsome man could tell if he would.

EMPLOYS THREE.

There are three stenographers in my employ. Two are pretty and know it. The third is not pretty, but she doesn't know it. When the third is called in to take dictation, she draws her chair close to mine.

Occasionally her foot, as it swings like a pendulum from her crossed knees, brushes against me. She has little confidential gestures, as putting her hand on my arm, leaning against me to tell me some office matter.

All of us occasionally admit to ourselves that we could have made Don Juan look like an amateur if we wanted to, and if a lady drops her lacy bit of handkerchief, who are we to scorn to pick it up? Yet I, growing corpulent and no longer dashing, would gaze askance at the alluring cambric and hurry on.

Before I am accused of lacking romance, let me explain. Romance crops out in the hardest man unless, like myself, he has been the goat in a fanciful interlude.

Not very long ago a demure little lady joined my office force as a typist. She was eager to get on. She'd work late and frequently when I would be there after the others had gone home she'd confide her ambitions to me. I am a sympathetic mortal, anxious to help along the fellows who want to get to the top.

"Some day when I can get enough saved up I'm going to night school to take a secretarial course," she told me one time.

I patted her on the shoulder. "Good idea. I'll tell you what. I'll give you a raise of three dollars a week and you can start right in now. I'll advance you the money."

"Oh, Mr. D———, you are wonderfully good to me," she assured me and blushed.

"I'm glad to help anyone trying to get ahead," I informed her. I meant just that. I'd help the janitor or the office boy or the chief clerk, anybody regardless of sex if I was convinced of their sincerity.

The girl started in school. One evening I had just finished looking over some records and was going out for something to eat. The ambitious typist was in the office with her hat and coat on. We went down in the elevator together.

SUPPER INVITATION.

"I haven't eaten yet," she told me.

What's a man to do? Well I did it. We had supper together.

Then the little stenographer began asking me advice for herself and for her family. I was aware of being regarded by them as a rock of dependability.

When the girl merited it, I promoted her to be my private secretary. It was good business from my point of view. She was trustworthy and conscientious, but the results of the promotion were unforseen.

A week after she became my official secretary a sweet face woman came in to see me.

"Mr. D——— it is very hard for me to come on this errand, but Dorothy is the only child I have and I must watch over her and protect her." The woman was a dear old-fashioned good woman.

"What is it you want us to do for her?" I asked.

"Mr. D———, Mr. D———" she hesitated, then in a rush she asked. "Are your intentions with my daughter honorable?"

That staggered me.

HOUR TO EXPLAIN.

"Why, Mrs. Evan, I'm sure you have misunderstood my business policy!"

It took me an hour to explain. May that be the only hour of such an ordeal that I experience in my life. From that moment my business policy changed. I no longer try to help people along regardless of sex. Because of that experience I wouldn't even pick up a fragrant handkerchief that beckoned to a romance.

Harvard Professor Wrote Bok Prize Plan Is Rumor

Reports that Professor Manley O. Hudson of Harvard wrote the Bok Peace prize plan were confusedly denied by him at Cambridge.

Frank A. Vanderlip, who is here, believes it is the work of Professor Hudson. Professor Calvert Magruder, who read the Hudson plan, says the winning plan is not the one he read.

Everyone agrees that the winning plan is remarkably on the parallel with most of Professor Hudson's ideas.

CHURCH INCOME NOT SUBJECT TO TAXATION

Supreme Court Rules Refund to Philippine Dominicans Must Be Made

Washington, Jan. 15.—The United States Supreme Court holds that income derived by religious organizations or corporations from the sale or lease of lands and incidental trading, not a distinct or external venture, when devoted exclusively to religious, charitable and educational purposes is not subject to taxation and comes within exceptions included in the income tax law of 1913.

The question was raised in a suit brought to the highest court by the Philippine internal revenue collector to resist refund of taxes collected from the Order of Dominican Fathers, in the Philippines, which derives revenues from investments in lands, bank stock and limited business.

The Philippine Supreme Court ordered refund of taxes paid by the religious order under protest, and this was affirmed by the United States Supreme Court.

SUICIDE'S WIFE AND MOTHER BATTLE

Family Quarrel Which Annoyed Man in Life Keeps Up After Death

The fight between the wife and the mother of Francis P. Potter, suicide victim, of No. 9 College Hill road, Somerville, which so harassed him in life, bids fair to continue.

Mrs. Rose Potter of Providence, wife of the gas victim, is now said to be planning to claim the estate and sign business of her dead husband.

Potter's mother, who lives with his son by his first marriage at the Somerville home, announces her determination to fight any effort by her son's wife to secure any part of his estate.

How large an estate Potter left has not been determined. It is known that he lost several thousands of dollars in a stock swindle which has recently come to the attention of the District-Attorney's office.

When Potter was alive, according to his mother, the question of choosing between his wife and his mother was often put up to him in the form of an ultimatum by his wife. The latter, Mrs. Potter said, refused under any circumstances to live under the same roof with her mother-in-law.

Potter left a note for Mrs. Mary S. Covalt, his secretary, in whose Allston home he took his life, stating that he left his sign business to her. The latter has refused to accept the legacy, however, according to Mrs. Potter.

SOMERVILLE SAFE ROBBERS SCARED OFF

Thieves were frightened away from the office of the Franklin Creamery Company, Inc., at No. 66 Washington street, East Somerville, as they were working on a safe containing $1,000. They had tipped the safe over and were preparing to drill through the side when frightened away. Detectives took finger prints from the safe.

Heat-treating Metals with Gas

Gas—the ideal fuel for modern manufacturing

Gas is cleanly. It is smokeless, sootless, dustless, ashless. Gas is instantaneous, supremely flexible, absolutely controllable. With gas, any degree of heat can be applied instantly and maintained without variation—when and where wanted. It releases to other use your valuable storage and runway space.

The Boston Consolidated Gas Company is now serving more than 1600 large industrial users—supplying approximately 130 million cubic feet per month.

The Boston Consolidated Gas Company has for years retained on its staff some of the best-posted Industrial Engineers in the country. These men are at your service in fitting gas to your business. In every instance where gas has supplanted other fuels, the results have been improved. Gas is the most efficient, industrial fuel for you.

Our Industrial Service Experts will be glad to co-operate in solving your fuel problem.

HULL MAN HELD IN ROBBERY OF COAST GUARD

Second Suspect Hunted for Murderous Attack on Allerton Beach Surfman

A former member of the Coast Guard has been arrested and another man is being sought in connection with the murderous attack upon and robbery of William B. Cleverly, a surfman of the United States Coast Guard Station at Allerton Beach.

Charles Peal of Main street, Hull, was arrested by Chief Frank Reynolds of the Hull police and will be taken to Weymouth Hospital to be identified by Cleverly as soon as the latter regains consciousness.

Cleverly was about to ring in at the Point Allerton key post when he was struck from behind. He saw two men before he was beaten into unconsciousness and was robbed of $110. When he regained his senses temporarily he crawled two miles to the Allenton Beach Coast Guard station and collapsed.

Dr. John G. Sweeney succeeded in reviving the surfman a second time and long enough for the authorities to learn what had taken place. Cleverly was then taken to the hospital, where examination revealed a possible fracture of the skull. He had not regained consciousness at a late hour.

Cleverly, a son of the late Captain Amber B. Cleverly of the Nantasket Steamship Company, was known to carry large sums of money. Authorities are convinced the crime was committed by persons who knew him, and not by rum runners as at first thought.

ELIZA A. PRESCOTT

SOMERVILLE GIRL VANISHES FOR 3D TIME

Missing Since Dec. 20 After Leaving for Movie With Man Called "White"

The police have been asked to search for Miss Eliza A. Prescott, 28 years old, who disappeared on the night of December 20 last, after a young man known as "White" called at her home, No. 5 Morgan street, Somerville, and invited her to a moving picture show.

Mrs. Elvira Colby, mother of the girl, believes that "White" had known her daughter less than a week.

Since her disappearance, Mrs. Colby has learned that her daughter drew $75 out of a savings bank. She has disappeared twice before since last Summer, once being located in Boston and the second time at the home of her sister in Brooklyn, N. Y., after an absence of three weeks. Her mother states that she has a mania for running away. For a while she was employed in a private hospital in Brookline.

The girl was born in Concord, N. H., and resided there until four years ago, when she came to Somerville. She is described as being five feet seven inches in height, weighing 135 pounds, light complexion, light blue eyes and auburn hair.

When she left home, Miss Prescott wore a black plush coat, fur collar, black felt beaver three-corner colonial style hat. She remarked to members of her family that she liked New York and they believe that she may have gone to that city.

SAUGUS WOMAN IS BURNED TO DEATH

Mrs. Arthur Conant, a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Newhall of No. 53 Chestnut street, East Saugus, was startled by piercing screams coming from the rear of the house, and rushing into the kitchen found her hostess a flaming torch. Her clothing had caught fire when a pan of fat boiled over on the gas range.

Despite the attentions of her friend and the family physician, Mrs. Newhall died soon after reaching Union Hospital in Lynn. She was forty-nine years old.

Cashier and $500 Gone

Lawrence, Jan. 15.—Lee Taylor, night cashier of the Apollo Lunch, has disappeared and $700 in cash is missing, according to a report made to the police by Resident Manager Arslanian. Taylor, who is about eighteen years old, came here from Portsmouth, N. H., two months ago.

DAWES SENDS FOR HEAD OF REICHSBANK

German Financial Expert to Be Questioned by Experts in Reparations Probe

Paris, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Dr. Schacht, president of the Reichsbank and German currency commissioner, has been invited by the expert investigating committee headed by Charles G. Dawes to come to Paris immediately, it was announced today.

Arthur N. Young, economic adviser to the State Department, arrived here today to act as the second unofficial observer for the United States with the reparation commission.

Premier Poincare has expressed a desire to meet the experts personally, and he is arranging a dinner for this purpose to be held Jan. 21 at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Berlin, Jan. 15.—The text of the speech delivered in Paris yesterday by Chairman Dawes of the expert committee which is to examine into Germany's financial affairs reached Berlin at a late hour and the press today produces it without comment.

While refraining from formal discussion of the American chairman's utterances, official quarters express gratification over the impartial attitude reflected in his remarks and his emphasis on the international and economic aspects of the forthcoming reparation examination.

Police Halt "World Tour"

Three Cambridge youths, the oldest twelve, entrained at South Station for a trip around the world, but were questioned by the conductor and turned over to the police at Quincy. They gave their names as Joseph Gargano of No. 149 Cambridge street; Toney LePore, No. 47 Third street, and Alphonso Caparino, No. 16 Gore street, and were held for their parents.

EXONERATE FOSDICK FOR N. Y. SERMON

New York, Jan. 15.—The Rev. Dr. Henry Emerson Fosdick, Baptist pastor, whose utterances in the First Presbyterian Church have been the subject of investigation by a special committee of the New York Presbytery, was exonerated. The committee decided his preachings had conformed to church doctrine.

COW RIDING IN TRUCK HURT IN AUTO CRASH

A sedan car was badly damaged and a cow, riding in a truck, was cut about the feet in a collision in Union square, Somerville, today. Elwood Proctor of Clifton street, Malden, drove the sedan, and Phil Coben of Harvard street, Malden, the truck. The cow was taken to the Animal Rescue League.

OPENIN(GAME FOR WINSOR CUP AND CITY TITLE TONIGHT

EAGLES AND B.A.A. TO CLASH

Boston College and the B. A. A. hockey teams will play the opening game in the Winsor Cup series, for the city championship, at the Arena, tonight.

Tuou.. [illegible]

The [illegible] tackle tough opposition for an opener, but they are not afraid of anything on runners.

The Boston College team's success may be attributed to its development in passing.

The reorganized B. A. A. team, carrying more strength than the lineup which wore the Unicorn before the Olympic team was formed, looks like the formidable team of the Eastern section of the United States League.

Manager Brown expects to have a couple of school teams in action as one end of a double-header. Tomorrow Commerce and Boston Latin have been asked to play.

Hundreds of former Quebec natives who live in Greater Boston will take in the two Berlin, N. H., Games Thursday and Friday, when the Granite Staters tackle Boston College and the B. A. A.

THREE EVENTS FOR TUOHEY'S PROGRAMS

At the result of a mail vote by his patrons, Promoter George Tuohey will confine his programs to three events, a preliminary, semi-final and a feature in his wrestling shows.

"I have reached this conclusion after there was shown an overwhelming majority in favor of programs that will be over at a reasonable hour," he says.

"In many cases patrons who reside in the suburbs were obliged to leave before the main event was finished and as a result there was keen disappointment felt by many who were not present when the affair ended.

"I think the fans will take to the new system as it will also give me a better chance to arrange high grade programs of all-round excellency."

The new arrangement will be used at Tuohey's next show on January 23 in Mechanics Building.

CHARLEY MAHER WINS IN BILLIARD OPENER

Charles Maher defeated Edward Perkins, 50 to 47, in the opening game of the New England three-cushion billiard championship last night at the State Theatre billiard rooms. Maher staged a comeback, as Perkins topped him 41 to 30 at one time.

Carroll and Siback will clash tonight. There are eight players in the tournament and the winners will compete in the national championships.

Edmund "Buzz" Stout, Princeton's football captain-elect and star hockey player, will leave the City Hospital on Saturday. He has been confined there owing to the injury he sustained in the hockey game with Dartmouth at the Arena ten days ago.

TUFTS ENTERS DOHERTY IN MILE RUN

John Doherty will be one of the Tufts entries in the mile run at the annual Y. M. C. A. open handicap Saturday. Doherty will compete against R. E. Brown, former Cornell distance star, who is entered from the B. A. A.

John Doherty

The race should be a thriller. Doherty has received an invitation to the Penn games, but if he is beaten he will not make the trip.

Ted Slack and Fred Littlefield have been entered in the 300-yard run. Bart Macchia will start in the 1,000-yard event. He will be anchor man on the relay quartet that will oppose Northeastern.

AMERICAN SKI TEAM ENTERS BRATTLEBORO

Brattleboro, Vt., Jan. 15.—Officials of the Eastern Ski Association have received word from Mayor George E Leach of Minneapolis, manager of the American Olympic Ski team, entering five of the team, Anders Haugen of Minneapolis, Sigurd Overy of St. Paul, Lemoine Batson of Eau Claire, Wis., Harry Lein of Chicago and Ragnar Omtvedt of Grand Beach, Mich., in the national ski championship tournament in Brattleboro, February 14 and 15.

The Olympic ski events at Chamonix end February 4, which gives the American entrants time to get home for the national event here.

EAGLES BATTLE TRINITY AT HARTFORD

Arrived back from Maine after their double victory over the Portland A. C. and the University of Maine, the Boston College basketball team will devote a week to preparations for the coming tilt with Trinity.

Clem Coady

The game with Hartford College has been always a big feature on the Eagle card, and this year's game points to be no exception.

Until last season, the Eagle tossers had not registered a victory over Trinity in six years.

The same was true of the annual meeting with Maine, but this year proves that the Eagle is represented by one of the greatest quintets that ever wore the Maroon and Gold.

Maine, which has one of the flashiest teams in New England received the shock of its life at its defeat and classed B. C. with the best in the country.

Coaches Coady and Parkhurst are more than pleased with the last three exhibitions of their players charges.

After the week-end trip to Connecticut, the Eagle meets Vermont and Holy Cross. Vermont recently defeated Yale, and the Newton boys are more than anxious to take on the Green Mountainers.

Taylor Defeats Lee

Pittsfield, Jan. 15.—Sandy Taylor of New York won the decision over Wally Lee of Boston in the main bout of ten rounds.

Young Dubois of Adams won over George Lundy on a technical knockout in the second round of the semi-final.

HARVARD IN TIE GAME WITH MAPLES

The Harvard Varsity hockey team did their very best and held the strong Maple team to an even score in the third overtime game of the season at the Arena. The scorers marked one for the Maple team and one for Harvard. So it was a tie game.

[illegible] Crosby

With such a result one can figure a moral victory for the Crimson lads for the way they batted the puck up and down the ice.

Shortly after the opening whistle blew it looked like a slaughter for the youths from across the Charles, when Morrison of the Maples broke through and shot a goal after 52 seconds of play.

Harvard really looked outclassed, but the excellent goal work of Newell saved the game. Time and again the Crimson lad stopped difficult shots from the Maple players, who ran riot throughout the contest.

The only other goal in the game was made in the third period, when Hodder got through the Maple defence and drew Hurley from the cage and whipped in the disc for a Harvard counter.

Coach Windsor's outfit did very well considering that their opponents are more polished on play. But the play of Walker, Hodder, Burgess, Beals, Chase and Crosby was rare as well.

Both teams did considerable leg and body checking and the short-enders had thrills watching the wearers of the Crimson colors do their stuff on the Arena surface.

LOCAL PLAYERS ON HEBRON'S SEXTET

Cambridge Latin is well represented on the Hebron Academy hockey team. Captain Smith, who played goal for the Cantabs last Winter, is goalie, "Smokey" Kelleher is in the forward line, and Carver, also of the 1923 Cantab team, and Dee, who went to Latin a few years ago, are in the defence.

Other Greater Boston boys include Erickson of Arlington High, McCormack of St. James High, Haverhill, and Thayer of Newton High.

January 19, Lewiston; 23, Lewiston High at Lewiston; 26, Exeter at Exeter; 30, Cony High at Augusta.

February 2, Coburn Classical; 6, Bowdoin 2d (pending); 7, U. of Maine 2d at Orono; 12, Cony High; 16, Bates 2d at Lewiston; 20, Portland High (pending); 23, Lewiston High; 27, Skowhegan (pending.)

March 1, Coburn Classical at Waterville.

STRIBLING'S FATHER ASSAULTS REFEREE

West Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 15.—In the sixth round of the bout between Young Stribling of Macon, Ga., and Norman Genet of Akron, Ohio Referee Phil Pritchard disqualified Stribling for hitting in the breaks after warning him twice to break clean.

Immediately afterward "Pa" Stribling, father of the pugilist, attacked and struck the referee.

BATTLING SIKI WINS FROM KID NORFOLK

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 15.—"Battling" Siki, the Senegalese, won over Young Norfolk, the New Orleans negro heavyweight, in an eight round bout.

MILWAUKEE DATES TWO GOOD BATTLES

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 15.—Pinkie Mitchell was matched to meet Lew Tendler of Philadelphia in a 10-round bout here February 11.

Character Building by Springfield Gym on Feb. 6

One of the big events to be held at the Huntington avenue branch of the Y. M. C. A. this Winter will come Feb. 6, when the Springfield Gym Team will be in town for a demonstration of all-round body and character building work. Keen interest is being shown among athletes in the exhibition to be given here, for the Springfield aggregation is one of the leading organizations of the kind in the world and the recognized North American champions.

A big crowd will be on hand to watch its stunts.

BROWN ENTERS THE CASEY GAMES

Leroy Brown

Brown captained the Dartmouth track team a year ago. He holds both indoor and outdoor intercollegiate championships in the running high jump, and the outdoor A. A. U. championship in the same events.

Brown not alone holds the world indoor record in the running high jump, but he holds the National A. A. U. outdoor figure and both indoor and outdoor intercollegiate marks. He is about the greatest jumper in the world.

At the indoor intercollegiates in New York in 1922, he leaped 6 feet 4⅞ inches. He broke the record of Sam Lawrence of Harvard and the B. A. A. set up in 1912. Brown's mark is the I. C. Four A indoor record.

He jumped 6 feet 4⅜ inches in the outdoor intercollegiate at the Harvard Stadium in 1922. That is the outdoor I. C. Four A mark.

At Chicago, in the national championships, he turned the bar at 6 feet 5⅝ inches, a new National A. A. U. figure.

PITTSBURGH WILL ENTER FOUR STARS

Pittsburgh will send the greatest collection of amateur fighters that ever left the Smoky City to the annual tri-city boxing tournament under the direction of the N. E. A. A. A. U. at Mechanics Building next Monday night, in which the star amateurs of Boston and Philadelphia will compete also.

In addition, there will be three other classes for Boston boxers.

UMPIRE JOHNSTONE WINS SUIT ON MASK

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 15.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals here affirmed the decree of United States District Judge Smith Hickenlooper which hold that a patent, on baseball masks, issued to James E. Johnstone, Newark, N. J., well-known umpire had been infringed on by the P. Goldsmith Sons Company, manufacturers, and John A. Spinney, retail dealer, of this city.

The decree held the patent good and valid and perpetually enjoined the defendants from making or selling same and appointed a master commissioner to take testimony and fix the amount of damage sustained by the plaintiff.

SAILOR TOM MAXTED DEFEATS JOE WHITE

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 15.—Sailor Tom Maxted, of Newark, decisively whipped Joe White, of Alabama, claimant of the heavyweight championship of the South, in an eight round bout, in the opinion of sports writers at the ringside.

JOHN H. CLAUSEN WILL COACH EXETER

Exeter, N. H., Jan. 15.—John H. Clausen, of Boston, has been engaged as the Phillips Exeter Academy track team from now until the end of the school year, in place of Trainer George Connors, now at Yale.

Clausen will devote two afternoons, Wednesday and Saturdays, here for the present, and in case Trainer Connors does not return, it is probable that other arrangements will be made with him.

He is an athlete of the old school and specialized in the running hop, step and jump, but was proficient in all branches. He is not new to the duties, as he acted as coach of the United States Naval Academy for the team which that institution sent to the Olympics.

There are few veterans on the team, only Captain Al O'Neill and Richard O'Connell are the promising candidates for the relay team which is now being developed to run Andover at the B. A. A. games.

HARRY WILLS WILL BOX A BLACKSMITH

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 15.—Blacksmith Russell of Sioux City, Iowa, has been substituted for Bud Jackson, to meet Harry Wills here on Wednesday night.

An order from the State Athletic Commission caused the local promoters to sign Russell, who has been approved by William McCormick of the commission.

STONE RINGER FOR DEMPSEY

Ad Stone, opponent of Wolfe Larson tonight at Mechanics Building, is a dead ringer for Jack Dempsey. Some of his boosters claim he hits like the champion.

AD STONE AND WOLF LARSEN READY FOR BELL TONIGHT

PUNCHERS IN C. A. C. RING

By JACK CONWAY.

Ad Stone of Philadelphia, most sensational of America's light-heavyweights, and Wolf Larsen of this city will swap blows in a Battle of Punches at the Commercial A. C.'s show at Mechanics Building tonight.

It should be quite a quarrel, as fistic events go. Both Stone and Larsen toss their punches from the floor, which means that if one of them crashes against the right spot the affair will end inside of the limit.

Stone recently battered Billy Shade around a New York ring. The Philadelphian has engaged in twenty-five starts and has slapped sixteen of his rivals out of the picture.

Over in New York they compare Stone to Jack Dempsey. Ad is forcing the issue every second he is in the ring, while he also has "Tiger Jack's" weaving style of battling.

Larsen has proved one of the big winners in Boston bouts. His tremendous punching power has enabled him to batter the opposition into submission.

Larsen was recently matched to battle Hambone Kelly. It was necessary to call off this encounter when Hambone's right shoulder became inflamed. Larsen didn't break training and so 's prepared to step in and wallop Stone.

It shapes up as one of the best socking battles of the season and is expected to attract those fans to the ringside who enjoy real action.

The semi-final will bring together two Quincy boys whose meeting will mean considerable to fans from that city. Paul De Salvo and Joe Pangraze, both hailing from Quincy, have long been bitter rivals, and they will fight it out tonight.

Young Dempsey of the South End is carded to clash with Young Bones, champion bantamweight of Connecticut. These two little fellows are sure to give the fans plenty of action. The opening bout will be between Joe Munroe of Charlestown and Leo Gregory, the fighting iceman of Medford.

* * *

Jock Malone has been installed a betting choice for his ten-round bout with Roland Todd, which will be staged by the Faneuil A. C. at Mechanics Building on Friday night. This does not indicate anything as the boys who make the odds have received some severe jolts lately. The speculative gentlemen made George Ward a 10 to 4 favorite over Pete Latzo merely to see the latter wallop his way to victory.

Todd showed in his New York bout with Tommy Loughran that he is a much better fighter than the English boxers who have come to America during the past five years. Perhaps he won't do as well as Owen Moran and Jem Driscoll, but he has enough class to make things mighty interesting for any of our brave middleweights.

* * *

Johnny Sheppard, Woburn boxer, is displaying amazing form in his training. This writer would not be surprised if Sheppard won over Frankie Genaro, American flyweight champion, at the Armory A. A.'s show at Mechanics Building next Tuesday night.

Sheppard is in the midst of a wild winning streak, having defeated Bud Taylor, Pancy Owens, Abe Friedman and Phil O'Dowd. When picking winners, it is usually good dope to string along with a youngster who has been knocking over the opposition.

For advisers Sheppard has Manager Paddy Minehan, Jake Kilrain and Jimmy Gardner. We do not know of a boxer who has such an expert Board of Strategy.

FIRST HOLE IN ONE OF SEASON AT MIAMI

Miami, Fla., Jan. 15.—The first hole-in-one of the 1924 season here was registered by E. D. Brophy, Miami Beach Golf Club professional on the beach course with L. (Pony) McAtee, star jockey of the Harry Payne Whitney stables, who is well known on metropolitan tracks.

Brophy used a mashie and holed his tee shot on the seventh hole, which measures 107 yards. It was the first time Brophy, who has been a professional for twenty years, ever holed an "ace."

It was the first time McAtee ever had seen this feat accomplished and, so far as known this is the first "hole-in-one" of the 1924 season in this country.

GENARO TO END HIS TRAINING IN BOSTON

Frankie Genaro

Frankie Genaro, American flyweight champion and three time conqueror of Pancho Villa, will arrive in Boston the latter part of this week to complete training for his ten-round classic with the sensational Johnny Sheppard of Woburn, which will be staged by the Armory A. A. at Mechanics Building a week from tonight.

Phil Bernstein, Genaro's manager, writes Matchmaker George Freeman of the Triple A to the effect that Genaro is in the best condition of his career.

"Frankie saw Bud Taylor of Chicago knock out Frankie Jerome in twelve rounds at Madison Square Garden on last Friday night," writes Bernstein. "As Sheppard defeated Taylor, Genaro realizes he will have to step lively to win.

"Joe Lynch told me Frankie was foolish to tackle Sheppard, as the latter recently won a decision over Phil O'Dowd, who walloped the bantamweight champion. I told Lynch that Frankie isn't afraid of any boxer in the world and didn't intend to sidestep Sheppard or any other tough opposition.

"I do hope Sheppard forces the issue as he did against Taylor Friedman and O'Dowd. Genaro won't give ground to him, which will mean that Boston fans will witness a spectacular fight. You can tell Jake Kilrain and Jimmy Gardner that Genaro will show more class in a minute than they know about the boxing game."

Sheppard is busy training for this big battle. The Woburn youth has been fighting better than any man of his weight in the world. His wins over Taylor, Owens, Friedman and O'Dowd attest to this fact. If he can upset Genaro, he will probably journey to New York to mingle with Joe Lynch in a title contest.

Jack Conway Picks Stone to Win Over Larsen

Jack Conway, holder of the world's record of picking winners, hands out the "inside" dope on tonight's Commercial A. C. show. Jack says:

"I am picking Ad Stone to win over Wolf Larsen in the Battle of Punches. This should be a slugging match all the way. Stone has a great deal of Dempsey's stuff and should thrill Boston fans.

"Larsen has been winning steadily, and as he is a terrible puncher he has a chance to knock over our dope with a single right or left hand sock."

Ketchel Was Tired of Ring

By TAD

There are some who regard the late Stanley Ketchel as the greatest middleweight that ever lived. There are othres who regard him as the greatest fighter of any weight that ever lived. We all agree, however, that he was a great fighter and would have been great twenty years ago or twenty years from now.

A terrific hitter, an aggressive fighter, and a boy who had the courage of a lion—that was Ketchel.

One of the most thrilling encounters ever seen was his ten-round battle with Philadelphia Jack O'Brien at the National Sporting Club. After taking a terrible lacing from the shifty O'Brien, Ketchel came on and on, and in the last round, with but eight seconds to go, knocked the Quaker City idol for a goal.

In 1910 Ketchel knocked out Willie Lewis in two rounds, then polished off Westchester Jim Smith in five, and went to Reno to see Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson perform.

In Reno Ketchel had a wonderful time. The gambling resorts were wide open, and the boy from Montana had his fling.

He went home from Reno tired of the game and resolved to lead a more decent life.

He purchased a great piece of timber land, intending to go into business.

His last letter, which was written five days before his death to Nick Muller's brother, tells of his plans.

Nick Muller you will remember as the proprietor of Woodlawn Inn, up on Jerome avenue, where Ketchel trained. The letter follows:

MISSOURI LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY.
STANLEY KETCHEL, President.
GENERAL OFFICES, 313 COLLEGE STREET.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 10, 1910.

Dear Friend Fred:

Your welcome letter I received, and was glad to hear from you and Pete, the goat. It makes one feel good to hear from a good old place like Woodlawn Inn., and at times I feel that I must get back and see you all.

I have quit the fighting game and I am going into the farming business. I have bought 3,200 acres of timber land and 800 acres of the best farming land in the world. I will incorporate it for about $300,000 and put in a sawmill and lumber it off, and when I get the big place cleared off I will have the biggest farm in the world.

Springfield, Mo., is my place now. It is the best country in the world. I have tried them all and I know. The only place I have ever gotten a fair deal in anything. If I ever go into the fighting game again it will be for fun and tharity. It seems queer to quit the game and good times, but it's a losing game any way a fellow plays it and what I am doing is sure.

Well, old pal, I left in your place some tools and tires and a trunk, and I want you to send them down to the Bartholdi Hotel, and put my name on them, and they will take care of them until I come back. And if I come back, which is a sure thing, my frst stop will be Woodlawn Inn, and we will drink to the health of the good night we all had when I beat Will Lewis, the Best Little Fellow in the World.

How are your sisters? Remember me to them, and Nick and all the good crew you had around Woodlawn.

Well, I must close and say good-by to all until I see you or hear from you. Good luck to all. Have Pete take care of all that stuff. Good luck to all. Write and tell me all the news.

Your pall and rough-house friend,
STANLEY KETCHEL.

HOPPE TO PLAY SCHAEFER FOR TITLE

New York, Jan. 15.—Willie Hoppe will defend his title of world's 18.2 balkline billiard champion against Jake Schaefer, the only man ever to wrest the crown from him, in Chicago, January 21, 22 and 23, under the provisions of the annual championship tournament.

Jake Schafer

Schaefer, who finished third in the tournament, telegraphed a challenge to Hoppe, announcing he had deposited a forfeit, and the champion immediately accepted.

The winner of their match, of three blocks of 500 points each, will be challenged by Edouard Horemans, Belgian champion, who finished fourth in the tournament.

That match probably will be played in March.

CLEVELAND HAS THIRTEEN IN SPRING

Cleveland, O., Jan. 15.—Thirteen exhibition games have been booked by Cleveland with National league and American Association clubs during the Spring training season.

Of them seven will be played in Florida and the remainder on the trip North.

The first game will be played on St. Patrick's day at Lakeland, the Indians' training grounds, with Cincinnati.

TODD TO FINISH TRAINING AT THE GYM

Roland Todd, the British middleweight champion who will meet Jock Malone Friday night at Mechanics Building, is in fine shape, but will get in some hard licks at Kelley & Hayes' gymnasium for the next three days.

"Todd doesn't fear any man of his weight and inches in this wide world," says his manager. "I don't want to boast, but we are confident that Todd will beat Malone.

"I understand that Malone had a very hard time in both of his batties wit hRatner. On the contrary, Todd was not obliged to extend himself to beat Augie in their two batties here."

Boxing enthusiasts are assured by the Faneuil Club that win or lose Friday night, Todd will give the spectators a handsome exhibition of skill and courage.

The British champion, in his street clothes, looks like a powerful man. He is very modest, but seems to have wonderful confidence as to his fistic ability.

Joey Fox, the British featherweight champion, will meet Dick Finnigan of Dorchester, in the semi-final.

CENTRE WILL NAME McMILLIN TONIGHT

Danville, Ky., Jan 15.—Dr. C. E. Allen, chairman of the athletic board of control at Centre College, and three other members of the board are reported to be in favor of offering the position as head football coach to "Bo" McMillin, former Centre gridiron star, and for the past two years coach at Centenary College.

The board will meet tonight when it is thought Charles Moran's successor will be named.

Boston American Ring Results

ALVAREZ BIDS TO WIN LEWIS' MAT TITLE

Strangler Lewis, world's heavyweight champion, may be dethroned when he battles Joe Alvarez, Panama champion, in a finish bout, best two falls out of three, at the Old Howard's show at the Grand Opera House on Thursday night.

It is the first time in several years that Lewis has defended his title in a Boston ring. As he will be pitted against one of his most dangerous challengers and the bout is to a positive finish, there are many followers of the mat game who are of the opinion that a new champion will be crowned on Thursday night.

Alvarez has proved a sensation in his Boston bouts. His deadly headlock enabled him to score a fall against the mighty Stanley Stasiak. The latter was obliged to spend a week in the Boston City Hospital following the contest.

Alvarez continued his winning surge by disposing of Jack Albright. He now is confident his headlock will enable him to toss Lewis.

It is no secret in wrestling circles that the champion is slipping. As a result, it appears as though the time is ripe for a youngster like Alvarez to step in and grab the title.

It will be a battle between head lock kings. Both Lewis and Alvarez rely upon this style of wrestling to defeat the opposition.

Alvarez plans to set a dizzy pace from the start. He believes that in this way he will weaken the champion and pave the way for an opening which will enable him to pin his rival's shoulders to the mat with a headlock.

Lewis realizes he will be pitted against one of the leaders in the heavyweight division. Fighting with his back against the wall, Lewis is expected to show the amazing form which has made it posiblee for him to down some of the best men of his weight in the world.

Lewis has been aroused by the stories that he is going back. He says he intends to prove he is still the monarch of his wrestling division. The champion declares he intends to meet all comers. He asserts no man will be bared.

Perhaps the rugged Alvarez will upset the champion's plans.

T. RUSSELL BROWN WINS AT PINEHURST

Pinehurst, N. C., Jan. 15.—T. Russell Brown of Montclair was the medal winner in the Advertisers Winter League golf tournament with 44—39—83.

Two Boston men were right behind Brown in the difficult test on the championship course. They were: R. M. Purves of Woodland with 43—41—84 and his club mate, George C. Dutton, with 42—43—85.

W. R. Barnhill of Chicago had 46—45—91.

Mrs. George Dutton of Woodland led the women, winning the qualifying round of the championship with 52—52—104.

S. A. L. Eldred of the Manamoissett Club, Providence, qualified in the third division with 55—51—106, and Irving J. French of Boston was right behind him with 54—54—108. C. E. Beane of the Charles River Club was only a stroke behind French and had 54—55—109.

W. F. Powers of Ekwanok qualified in the fourth division with 52—60—112. Julius Matthews of Woodland was also in this division with 56—58—114.

M. Berkowitz of Kernwood qualified in the fifth division with 58—61—119. Mrs. Berkowitz qualified in the women's championship division with 71—74—145.

ROMEO ROCHE WINS FROM JOHN LEONARD

Holyoke, Jan. 15.—Romeo Roche was given the decision in a close 10-round bout over Johnny Leonard of Allentown, Penn., in the feature bout of the Valley A. C. show. Roche weighed 129½ pounds and LLeonard 129.

Kid Carson of Holyoke won over Wop Manolian of Boston in the semi-final; Young Herbert of Holyoke beat Frankie Moore of Lowell in four rounds, and Jackie Stiles of South Hadley Falls won over Young Blain of Holyoke in four rounds.

In the bout between Young Marcel of Holyoke and Billy Bowdoin of Boston Referee Bobby George of Worcester declared it no contest after Bowdoin went down twice to the floor on claim of foul.

LUIS ANGEL FIRPO'S FIGHT DATES MADE

Buneos Aires, Jan. 15.—The dates for the two fights Luis Firpo, the Argentine heavyweight, will take part in during February have been definitely set.

On the afternoon of Feb. 10 he will meet Farmer Lodge, American, and on the afternoon of Feb. 24 he will fight Erminio Spalla, Italian, who is holder of the European heavyweight title.

Jack Conway is to Size-Up Wilson and Greb

Jack Conway, Boston American boxing expert, is at Summit, N. J. today where he is getting the real low down on Johnny Wilson, Boston favorite, who battles Harry Greb for the world's middleweight championship at Madison Square Garden, New York, on Friday night. Jack will tell Boston American readers tomorrow just what chance Wilson has of regaining the title he lost to Greb at New York last Summer.

Jack Conway

Jack will also watch Greb in training and will give the last minute dope on the condition of Reddy Mason's protege.

This is the most important middleweight bout that has been staged in America since Ketchel knocked out Papke in their third bout. Every live sport fan will want to read Jack Conway's articles which will be written in his usual graphic and expert style.

JOHN McGRAW AFTER BALDWIN OF NEWARK

New York, Jan. 15.—It is reported that John McGraw is in negotiation with the Newark Club of the International League for the service of Pitcher Harry Baldwin in an effort to bolster the weak staff of the National League champions.

Baldwin won twenty games and lost fifteen for a tail-end club last season and had an earned run average of better than three. He took part in forty-six games and pitched no less than 304 innings.

RUNAWAY BOYS HELD AS CAR THIEVES

Philadelphia Lads and East Boston Friend Toured City in Stolen Autos

Three alleged automobile thieves, among the youngest on record, were arrested by the East Boston police today charged with stealing two automobiles, with driving automobiles without being licensed, and with the larceny of automobile keys.

Patrolmen Duggan and Matrucl made the arrest. They found the three boys asleep in a room at No. 5 Wilbur court. They gave their names as Sam and Joseph Sylvester, aged fourteen and twelve respectively, of South Philadelphia, and Thomas Trainor, sixteen, of No. 141 Webster street, East Boston.

The young Philadelphians left home and came to Boston about ten days ago. They did not know, they said, that Philadelphia is having a "clean-up week."

They "borrowed" a Ford truck owned by Frank A. Carlino, found standing on Porter street, East Boston, and drove around the city until the machine stalled on a hill. Climbing out, they jumped into a coupe which was standing nearby, owned by Bernard Murdock, a salesman of South Boston. They saw all the sights in this car and finally abandoned it on Marginal street.

Magazine "Broom" Suppressed by P. O. Officials

New York, Jan. 15.—Broom, a magazine of art and literature, formerly published by Americans in Rome and Berlin and now in New York has been suppressed by the postoffice authorities, Matthew Josephson, managing editor, announced he had been informed by a message from the Solicitor-General in Washington.

The editorial board, it was stated, includes Kenneth Burke, former associate editor of the Dial; Malcolm Cowley, one time editor of the Harvard University Advocate, and William Carlos Williams, editor of Contact.

NEW ENGLAND TO SWAP POWER WITH NEW YORK

Transmission Line Carrying 114,000 Volts From Schenectady to Boston Opened

An exchange of power between New York State and New England is made possible by the opening of an electric transmission line carrying 114,000 volts from a station near the Syracuse city line to Boston.

Through arrangement of the Adirondack Electric Light and Power Company with the New England Power Company, and other power-producing firms in New York and New England, power will be supplied to any point when the productivity of any station is curtailed for any reason.

High water in the Hudson River at Spier Falls, near Glens Falls, would make it possible to supply power at low cost to New England points when the water head there is insufficient. When power production is excessive in New England, it would be transmitted to points in New York where productivity is low.

In emergencies the steam plant of the Adirondack Company near Amsterdam would supply the system without drawing on water power resources.

Distribution is made through the sub-station at Rotterdam Junction, just outside the General Electric Works, near Schenectady, N. Y., which it is indicated, will become the greatest power distribution centre in the United States.

DISABLED VETS APPEAL FOR BONUS BILL

Warn House and Senate That "Your Votes Will Decide Our Votes Next Election"

Washington, Jan. 15 (Universal).—The Washington Herald and Washington Times printed for the attention of all members of Congress the following appeal for a soldier bonus as represented by the American Legion adjusted compensation bill:

"San Diego, Cal., Jan. 10, 1924.
"William Randolph Hearst,
"New York Journal, New York.

"You have been our friend and spokesman for bonus. Will ask you to convey this message to your Washington organization for immediate release and publication at your discretion:

"Veterans Lonnie Boyd Post, American Legion, Camp Kearney, California, urge Congressmen and Senators each State stand solidly for Legion adjusted compensation bill now in hands of Congress. Anti-Bonus League is not bona fide exservice men's organization. We have no confidence in slogan 'Everything for disabled, nothing for ablebodied.' Existing conditions after five years prove such promises valueless. Lonnie Boyd Post is disabled veterans post, 65 per cent. bedridden. We fought your fight and won. Do we lose now? Your votes on bonus will decide our votes next election.

"MARTIN HUGHES.

43 SHIPS IN, FISH PRICES SLUMP

After a period of dullness extending over several weeks, the Boston Fish Pier at South Boston found assembled at the pier forty-three vessels, steam, sail and motor, and berthing space was at a premium.

The receipts aggregated 1,291,500 pounds of haddock, cod, hake, pollock, flounders, cusk, halibut and scrod. Prices slumped to about one-half of the quotations of a week ago.

NEWSBOYS TRY OUT FOR SHOW TONIGHT

Boston newsboys who are candidates for places in the minstrel show of the "newsies" will gather at the Newsboys' Reading Room in Bowdoin square tonight. Caniff Brothers, who are coaching the newsboys, will give specialty and sketch candidates a workout. The singing chorus is practically completed.

PITTSFIELD CITY CLERK ACCUSED

Pittsfield, Jan. 15.—Charges, alleging malfeasance in office, will be made against City Clerk Michael F. Quinn at a hearing here next Monday night. The charges have been filed with Mayor Charles W. Power and the City Council. The charges, signed by Patrick H. Gorman, a machinist, accuse Quinn of activity in getting a salary raise, and appropriating the fees of his office to his own use, and of making an offer of a bribe to certain members of the City Council in connection with the purchase of a fire truck costing $9,500.

MOTHER MADE ILL BY BOY'S ABSENCE

IDENTIFY BANDIT IN $18,000 HOLDUP

New York, Jan. 15.—Wilfred Burke, who said he was driven from Philadelphia by the recent activities of police there, was arrested today, charged with shooting William Kelly, messenger for the Manufacturers' Trust Company, during a hold-up last October 24, when $18,000 was taken.

Burke was arrested at his home, where he said he had come to say goodbye to his wife and daughter before seeking safety in the West. Taken to a hospital, he was identified by Kelly as one of the men who participated in the hold-up and the one who fired the shots at him.

QUITS HARVARD TEAM TO BE ARTISTS' MODEL

When "Blackie" failed to turn out for practice this season an investigation was started by some of his schoolmates and it was discovered that all his spare time was spent as a model in the studios of artists. Black has a magnificent physique and is in great demand among the artists and sculptors. He has found that being a model is much more profitable than playing basketball.

DOUBT LOST L-24 HAS BEEN LOCATED

Weymouth, England, Jan. 15.—Notwithstanding the statement that the ill fated submarine L-24 had been located at a depth of thirty fathoms off Portland Bill, there is some doubt as to whether her resting place has really been found.

One of the divers reports that he discovered a hulk covered with barnacles and seaweed near the spot where the L-24 sank; consequently this wreck could not possibly be the naval craft. On the other hand, it is said that the first supposition as to the submarine's whereabouts was correct. Mine sweepers today are renewing their efforts to find her.

Over a Half Century of Advertising Experience

Deep down in the lower layers of the skin, are tiny cells, nerves and capillaries that really determine whether the skin is clear, or always marred by imperfections.

said one noted specialist

"IS there really any one cause back of all skin blemishes and faults?"

The question was asked recently of a prominent skin specialist. The answer he gave means a new hope to thousands.

"Every skin," said the specialist, "would normally be clear and unblemished. It is only the abnormal conditions of modern life—the dirt and soot, the lack of exercise, the rush and worry, that cause blackheads and blemishes, that bring even the more serious skin affections."

And then he went on: "If one cannot change these conditions of daily life, one must at least use some corrective to start and keep the skin again acting normally."

To keep skin functioning normally

Here, in a word, is what many today, with all their makeshift remedies, have failed to realize. You cannot plaster on a perfect skin from the outside. You must seek to restore its own inherent health and freshness.

To cleanse the pores of dust and germs, to gently restore the pulsing of the capillaries in the lower layers of the skin, to carry off infection, and then to stop new infection before it starts—thousands have learned to use Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment in the daily care of their skin.

Often in a few days, blackheads, blemishes, and even affections that appear to be more or less serious, will yield to this gentle treatment.

Begin today this method of daily care

Every night before retiring, work up on the face, with warm water, a thick, creamy lather of Resinol Soap. Work it gently into the pores; then rinse off, and splash on a dash of clear, cold water to close the pores. Then, with special irritations, roughnesses, blemishes or rashes, apply a touch of Resinol Ointment. If possible, leave it on overnight. Then in the morning wash off again with Resinol Soap.

Within a week you will begin to notice the difference in your skin—a finer, softer texture—a ruddier glow—a clearing of the ugly little blemishes.

Resinol Ointment also for more serious skin affections

Not only is Resinol Ointment used everywhere for clearing away minor skin blemishes—but its soothing, healing properties have for years been successful in relieving more stubborn skin affections. Rashes and eczema—often itching, unpleasant and embarrassing—will in many cases vanish in a few days. Thousands have wondered at the quickness of its action. Even a light application sinks deep into the pores, attacks the root of the disorder, and starts the skin again acting normally. Resinol is absolutely harmless. It will not irritate even the delicate texture of an infant's skin.

BOSTON PAYS TRIBUTE TO MARION DAVIES FILM

PREMIERE IS SEASON'S BIGGEST EVENT

By NICHOLAS YOUNG

Boston [illegible] own [illegible] tribute to Marion Davies and the Cosmopolitan super-film, "Little Old New York," at the Park Theatre last evening.

The [illegible] screen [illegible] brought forth [illegible] [illegible] officials of State [illegible] cers of [illegible] prom[illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] "Little Old New York" [illegible]

RIOT OF COLOR

The [illegible] was a riot of color [illegible]. Bright uniforms [illegible] men furnished [illegible] own [illegible] contrast to the more [illegible] ning gowns worn by prominent women who filled the boxes. If the picture was a success, and that point was emphatically settled, so, too, was the gathering a success.

It was a big night at the Park—the biggest of the season—with everyone stirred and thrilled at the vivid picturization of Rida Johnson Young's beautiful story. Not since Miss Davies was last seen here in "When Knighthood Was in Flower" has a film presentation been received with so much spontaneous interest, and the praise accorded the gifted star last night carried its own promise of a long and triumphant engagement.

EASY CONQUEST.

"Little Old New York" made an easy conquest of its first group of spectators. A rare combination of seductive artistry linked with a fanciful, romantic story, gorgeous and expanding scenes of great beauty and photography that was flawless easily made "Little Old New York" the outstanding screen event of the already half spent season.

MISS DAVIES TRIUMPHS.

First interest in "Little Old New York" settled, of course, upon Miss Davies and the manner and character of her impersonation. She was happily remembered as a charming, winsome Mary Tudor in her last photographic achievement—and the memory lingered.

It was a trim, slim and rollicking broth of a lad that Miss Davies gave us in this fetching story of early New York—a characterization that reached high and enduring quality and plainly stamped the brilliant little Cosmopolitan star as one of the great artists of the picture drama.

As an Irish lad she was delightfully boyish, with a subtle feminine reserve that served its own purpose in making the character attractive. But if you liked her as a charming young boy your surrender was complete when her secret was exposed and she blossomed forth into a dashing Gotham belle of 100 years ago.

RARE PERSONALITY.

Miss Davies carried "Little Old New York" to emphatic success by the strength of her personality, her rare dramatic gifts and an ability to shift her moods to the demand of the play.

Few pictures if any have had the benefit of a more romantic story than "Little Old New York." It is a romance of New York's beginning—a story of love and bitterness in days when differences were settled in old-fashioned ways.

The spectator is introduced to the original Cornelius Vanderbilt, who runs the Staten Island Ferry; you meet Robert Fulton, who has just invented a contraption that makes a boat move by steam, and you view

WILL SUE AUTO MAN AND WIFE

Everett Girl Denies She's a "Home-Breaker"; Declares She Was Dupe of Suitor

Miss Mary Helen Burke, twenty-five, a stenographer, of Everett, announced today that she will at once bring suit for $25,000 against Peter Overlan of Malden, and suit for $10,000 against the latter's wife, Elizabeth.

Miss Burke charges she has lost her place of employment in the Veterans Bureau because she was annoyed and [illegible] by Mrs. Overlan who called there and "made scenes."

She says she was deceived by promises of marriage on Overlan's part before she discovered he was already wed.

Overlan, a Chelsea automobile man, will be charged, Miss Burke says, with breach of promise to marry.

Mary H. Burke

The charge against Mrs. Overlan, Miss Burke declares, will be slander.

Miss Burke says she was dismissed from her place in the disbursement section of the Veterans' Bureau yesterday. She was not surprised, she says. Mrs. Overlan had called there several times and "made scenes," the girl declares. Once, to smooth things over and hold her [illegible], the stenographer claims, she [illegible] Mrs. Overlan the diamond ring Pete had given to her when [illegible] he was her sweetheart.

NOT A "HOME BEAKER."

"And now," says Miss Burke, "I am going to fight! Somebody told me yesterday of an old saying that 'the worm will turn,' meaning that when he is forced to even the worm will [illegible] resistance.

"I have been the worm and the [illegible] person in this Burke-Overlan tragedy and I intend to tell the [illegible].

"A [illegible] or two ago the Boston American told of a scrap between Mrs. Overlan and me in Chelsea square, but the paper did not explain my reason for going there and demanding an interview with Mr. Overlan in his wife's presence.

"All I wanted from this man was an acknowledgement, in his wife's presence, that I did not knowingly assume the role of what she persists in calling a 'home breaker.' I wanted that woman to keep away from me, stop pestering and annoying me, stop hounding and slandering me.

"I wanted him to stand up like a man and say 'Lizzie, I was entirely at fault. I chased after this girl. I lied to her. I told her I was single and even when I was found out I told her you and I had not been living together as man and wife and promised to marry her when I could get a divorce.'

SHE SEEKS JUSTICE ONLY.

"And that is all I have wanted until now. Unable to get that acknowledgment in the quiet manner I thought best, I now shall seek it in open court.

"And, thank God! I shall not have to wait until the case comes to trial for I have here and I cheerfully offer to the Boston American the very letter I mailed to my poor mother in Bangor, Maine, the day I found Pete Overlan out.

"Found him out? Read it—I had only partly found him out. The letter tells its own story. I had discovered that he was married and the father of five children, but I had not yet found him out, for he still was deceiving me with talk about a 'divorce,' a 'hurried marriage' and 'life in California.' I was a fool!

"When Pete Overlan refused the other day to do me the simple justice—without cost to himself—of admitting that I was the deceived one, I wrote to Bangor and asked the folks to send this letter back to me."

GROOM, 79, AND BRIDE, 39, OFF TO PALM BEACH

Gilebert Felch, Somerville Real Estate Man, Quietly Weds Stenographer

Speeding toward Palm Beach, Fla., is seventy-nine-year-old Gilbert Felch, Somerville real estate agent. With him is his thirty-nine-year-old bride, Alice G. MacPherson, formerly public stenographer with offices in the Kimball Building.

They stole quietly into Tremont Temple and were married by Rev. Dr. James T. Ryder. Their friends had expected they would be married at Portland, where Mrs. Felch's sister lives.

Felch has a son and daughter, both older than their new step-mother. The daughter, Mrs. C. O. Porter, of Somerville, attended the wedding.

The couple will honey-moon at the southern resort until April, when they will probably reside at Felch's home, in Wesley Park, Somerville.

BUTLER SLOWS DOWN IN WAR ON LAWLESS

Warns Police Against Wholesale Raiding; Acts After Judges Complain

Philadelphia, Jan. 15. — Many saloons, closed last week in Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler's offensive against vice and crime, today announced their intention of reopening as a result of the General's warning to the police to adhere strictly to the letter of the law in conducting raids and seizures. Proprietors of these places declared, however, that they would sell only beverages of legal alcoholic content.

Complaints of several magistrates were said to have influenced General Butler's action. Among the things he warned the police against were:

Search of private homes, unless specific evidence had been obtained against the [illegible].

Damage estimated at $700 resulted from a fire today in the basement of a four-story dwelling at No. 20 Bennett street, South End, occupied as a lodging house by Mrs. Burpee Bleakney. The fire, caused by an overheated furnace, was confined to the basement. Mrs. Bleakney has twenty lodgers.

GIRLS' CITY CLUB JUDGES DECIDE FOR POWDER AND ROUGE

THEN THEY QUALIFY VERDICT

Declare Affirmatives Win Debate on Form of Speech, Not on Subject Matter

The long-expected debate at the Girls' City Club in Newbury street, on the question of "to rouge or not to rouge" hasn't decided a thing.

When the friends and [illegible] of the powder [illegible] the judges declare a unanimous verdict in favor of the "A[illegible]," [illegible] multuous [illegible], but a severe chill fell upon the audience of 150 when the presiding officer, Miss Grace Davidson, [illegible] a gloved hand in protest and explained.

"The three judges wish it to be distinctly understood that they have passed judgment not upon the question so ably presented to us by both sides but rather upon the manner of that presentation. We find for the 'Ayes' only because they have shown themselves to be the abler debaters."

'COWARDS!' THEY CRY

There were ugly murmurs against the judges, two of whom are newspaper girls and must continue to get [illegible] for their papers [illegible] both sides and there were [illegible] 'cowards' [illegible] but all was forgotten when the ice cream, cake and coffee [illegible].

The debaters were Miss Molla Walsh and Miss Dolores Brennan in favor of the little old lipstick and its pals, and Miss Margaret O'Keefe and Miss Rose [illegible] who hold that what was good enough when grandma danced the minuet is good enough today.

"Today," said Molla Walsh, "it is only the foolish woman who [illegible] wrinkles and [illegible]. Why is it that wealthy women look so well? It is because they know how to use what modern science has provided. But rouge shouldn't be smeared on. Don't put it on in [illegible]. There is a time and a place."

MAN'S FIRST QUERY

"A girl, in these days of [illegible] on, must look her best. The first question a man asks about a girl is 'Is she good looking?'"

"Not all of us are graced with beauty," chimed in Dolores Brennan. [illegible] goodness [illegible]

"There is no living woman whose appearance would not be improved by a [illegible] on the nose."

"Could beauty have better intercourse than with honesty?"

HER BEST RECIPES.

The best cosmetics, Miss O'Keefe declared, are soap and water, exercise and care in eating.

Miss O'K[illegible] judges [illegible] body wanted to see the bills of rouge all they had to do was "look about them."

"And what do we see, when we look about us? We see that all the rouge-users conform to a certain standard, like Mr. Ford builds his cars. When [illegible] Mary Pickfords, they are Theda Baras or some other type, and nobody is herself any more."

MARION DAVIES IS PRAISED BY HUB CRITICS

Her Personality and Skill Dominate Big Film, Their Opinion

Dramatic critics of Boston papers were loud in their praise of the acting of Marion Davies in the big Cosmopolitan production of "Little Old New York," which had its first Boston showing at the Park Theatre last evening.

ADVERTISER—Perhaps there is some film comedienne who could act the role of Patricia O'Day in "Little Old New York" as well as Marion Davies acts it. But if there is such a person, we've never seen her—and we've reason to believe that we've seen them all.

Miss Davies does the prettiest piece of romantic comedy acting in this Cosmopolitan film that we've ever seen or ever want to see.

POST—The quaint and young New York of a hundred years ago was unrolled before our eyes at the Park Theatre, last evening, when Marion Davies' latest Cosmopolitan production, "Little Old New York," was given its Boston premiere.

Perhaps the outstanding feature of the picture is the work of Marion Davies in the leading role of Patricia O'Day who masquerades as her brother Pat in order to claim a fortune. Her portrayal of this role reveals Miss Davies as a born comedienne.

Miss Davies has led the way in making the audience forget her own personality and remember only the wholly adorable Pat O'Day who comes from Ireland incognito to keep an oath made to stern old John O'Day. In each picture in which she appears she makes a forward stride in her ability to act, something which can be said for few motion picture stars.

HERALD—As a play, "Little Old New York" was said to have been mildly sentimental suggestive of the hedge rows of "Pomander Walk." But there is little sentimentality to the film version. The reproductions of old New York, of Bowling Green and the [illegible] of the first Delmonico's, the launching of the "Clermont," have been carefully and effectively dealt with. Marion Davies plays boyish cockiness and amusing mimicry; she rarely exaggerates.

BOSTON PAYS TRIBUTE TO MARION DAVIES

the virgin trip of Fulton's "Clermont"; you are led into Delmonico's where gay young blades complain because twenty cents is charged for ale, oysters and chops. John Jacob Astor, stern and austere deals in pianos, furs and real estate and gives young "Pat" O'Day some sound advice on the future of New York, and just to keep in the literary atmosphere, Washington Irving moves about in the picture, attending cock fights and doing a little preliminary work that is eventually to lead him to great fame.

All these people move through the story, playing an important part and showing a great city's foundation with the real builders on the job.

Scenically "Little Old New York" reaches a high point in cinema production. The settings, designed by Joseph Urban, rival anything that has ever been brought to the screen. There is nothing lacking in local color, with complete streets and rows of quaint houses to add to the illusion. In support of Miss Davies, Harrison Ford, Andrew Dillon, Mahlon Hamilton, J. M. Kerrigan, Louis Wolheim, Harry Watson, Sam Hardy, Elizabeth Murray and Charles Judels give engaging talents.

"Little Old New York" was adapted for the screen by Luther Reed and its artistic direction was handled by Sidney Olcott. A special orchestra plays an effective music score arranged by William Frederick Peters.

The Astors and Vanderbilts and Livingstons of another generation were reliving some of the most interesting moments of their life.

And in the audience sat the Ameses and the Beals and Frothinghams of the present generation.

So that society watched society at the opening performance of "Little Old New York" at the Park Theatre last night.

They watched—with keen interest—the now demure and then spirited actions of Miss Marion Davies as Patricia O'Day, the little girl who has to be a boy for a while and doesn't like it at all.

She watched the gorgeous balls of another day, the dainty gowns, the perking pantalettes, the graceful minuets and the very wonderful waistcoats of the gentlemen.

They listened to—and vigorously applauded—the music accompaniment to this remarkable photoplay, for the orchestra does some exceptionally clever work in its accompaniment of the picture.

Prominent among the younger matrons there was Mrs. George H Lyman, Jr., the former Eleanor Higginson [illegible] Mrs. Lyman [illegible] a party of friends.

REVUE GIVES REAL JOY AT SHUBERT

Once in a great while, sometimes only once in a whole season, a revue is produced that is entertaining from start to finish, that supplies two and a half hours or more of real entertainment [illegible] that gives both eye and ears [illegible]. Just such a revue is the fifth annual edition of the Greenwich Village Follies [illegible] John Murray Anderson [illegible] premiere at the Shubert last night.

All that goes to make up a delightful performance was [illegible] in the ingredients which Mr. Anderson has blended so well together. There were comedians that were funny without being vulgar, dancers that were graceful, singers that had good voices, music that was tuneful, girls that were beautiful and [illegible] though their raiment was scant, and stage settings and [illegible] that were gems. What more can any person ask in the way of musical entertainment?

Daphne Pollard, the clever Australian comedienne, is at her best [illegible] possible [illegible] splitting [illegible] Wilson [illegible] "stop [illegible]" The audience, the audience applauded [illegible] after they had responded to half a dozen dance encores.

Al Sexton, Irene Delroy, Joe Lyons, Tom Howard, The Cansinos, Ethel McElroy, Martha Graham, Marion Dabney, The Mandells and Walter Craig are only a few of the others who acquit themselves with credit.

THEATRICAL BALL NEXT THURSDAY

Not a single detail has been overlooked by the committee in charge of the Theatrical Ball which takes place next Thursday, January 17, at Mechanics Building. For nearly a month the committee has been at work with the result that they have perfected a program comprising vaudeville, dancing, one-ring circus and other attractive features that seem destined to make this year's event supersede all former occasions.

The grand march, scheduled for midnight, and which will serve as the outstanding event of the evening, will be led by Nancy Welford, prima donna of the "Up She Goes" company, and Otis Skinner.

They will be followed by every other prominent player now in this city, including Frank Craven, Billy B. Van, Richard Carle, Helen Spring, Anthony Gordon, Dorothy Fletcher, Alice Moffett, Ann MacDonald, Adelyn Bushnell, Bernard Nedell and Walter Gilbert and others.

A symphonic orchestra with fifty [illegible] best musicians [illegible] music for the dancing which concludes at 2 o'clock in the morning.

COMEDY SCORES AT SOMERVILLE

"Six Cylinder Love," a comedy with a "message" to all would-be automobile owners, proved an acceptable offering at the Somerville last night. The story centres around a couple who mortgaged the home to buy an automobile. Leota Conlin made an attractive wife, whose only desire was to have a good time and Phil Sheffield as the husband, was [illegible]

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

A Socialist pap[illegible] [illegible] me as the "semi-official sprinkler of perfume on the [illegible]."

A leader of women's activ[illegible] scolds me for not writing more about women, and asks bitingly if the people who interest [illegible] millionaires.

Well, that's the answer.

• • •

First, let me say I don't [illegible] more about women because I am not brought closely [illegible] very many women [illegible] work. I have written more or less about women in business but I do not feel qualified to write on the other activities of women leaders.

May I add that so far as my observation and knowledge go [illegible] en [illegible] in business? [illegible] have [illegible] more [illegible] enterprises of [illegible] indications are that women will become an increasingly important factor in the business and [illegible] cial world.

Now, how about [illegible] "millionaires" and [illegible] the "rotten rich."

• • •

Let me confess frankly that I plead guilty to writing a good deal about men who have made millions.

Why?

Because wealth is the common reward for the conspicuous achievement in the realm of business and I find that readers like to get pointers from [illegible] on how they solve the problem of making headway in the world. People read intimate talks with men who have made their marks. Other business men like to learn how notably successful business or financial men feel about their own particular line, or about important foreign and domestic developments in [illegible].

HARDWARE MARKET TRADING IS QUIET

Hardware Age, in its weekly market summary, will say: "Quiet trading continues in the hardware market. A number of small price changes, most of them advances, were announced by manufacturers and jobbers during the past week. Few important price changes on staples are excited, although readjustments are likely for some time. Market authorities foresee a slow but more or less consistent downward price tendency."

TELEPHONE TO ASK RATES ADVANCE

New York Telephone Co., according to Public Service Commission report, will soon ask for increase in rates on ground that receipts have not brought a 7 per cent. return on value of its property. In 1923 company earned 7.91 per cent in state outside of New York city and 4.99 per cent. in city, making a total of 5.04 per cent. for entire state.

GEN. ELECTRIC PROVES STAR PERFORMER

By FRANK H. MELOON, Financial Editor

What of the market recovery that has been in progress since last October?

There are more and more converts, as the days roll by, to the belief that the market will establish a level not higher than the present from which stocks may enjoy later on the more or less customary Spring rise.

Some others think we have already had the rise that discounts the usual Spring business revival.

As these opinions are all speculative they are not to be relied upon too implicitly.

Returning to the subject of the recovery since October, we find that Erie, Baltimore & Ohio, Wisconsin Central, Wabash A and Southern Railway have all scored their highs since 1922 in that time.

There follows from groups of stocks—industrials, railroads, coppers and oils—the market increases since October 30:

John Moody, president of Moody's Investors Service and one of the recognized students of economic conditions in the United States, says that from his study of the business and financial situation, conditions at the end of 1924 are likely to be much more healthy and stable than they were at the end of 1923.

"It is evident that we are heading definitely toward a period of healthy prosperity," he said. "Some people express the opinion that the first part of the year will be prosperous, but not the last part.

"It is my belief that if any part of the year 1924 is lacking in prosperity it will be the first part. For several months we have been preparing for this recovery which is to come later on."

Replies to Investors

"CALLING THE TURN."

To F. L. D.—The "calling of the turn" by the Boston American to which you allude, appeared in this newspaper Nov. 5, when the writer said: "There was a more general feeling that last Wednesday's upswing marked the 'turn' and that the 'Spring rise,' which may not be wildly enthusiastic, has started a few weeks earlier than commonly expected. Of course this does not mean that the worst is over for the weaker issues."

The Wednesday mentioned was the exact date of the beginning of the present market rise.

GEN. ELECTRIC SPECIAL.

To K. J. M.—We have frequently printed our views on General Electric special, but will be glad to reply direct concerning it to you as herewith, or to any interested person.

NAME AND ADDRESS.

To A. H. It is the invariable rule of this department that no inquiries can be answered unless the sender affixes his name and address, as evidence of good faith. All replies are made direct by mail. Only those which seem of general interest can be printed.

ATLANTIC & PACIFIC.

To C. B. Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company preferred stock is sold by the company at par, $100 a share, and brokers quote it for prices ranging from $96 to $99 a share. It has a very good investment rating, although the stock has never been listed, and we have never disapproved of a purchase of it. There is no common stock of the company for sale. This is all owned by the officers of the company and by a very few interests. This company is one of the biggest chain grocery store companies in the world and one of the most successful. The stock may be bought in any amount from one share upward through Pynchon & Co., No. 111 Broadway, New York.

GENERAL MOTORS.

To C. K. W.—General Motors has adopted for this year a plan for selling to employes 7 per cent. debenture stock.

Between January 1 and February 15, 1924, employes who have been continuously in the service of the corporation or its subsidiaries since September 1 may subscribe for 7 per cent debenture stock at a price to be fixed and announced by the directors, which will carry dividends from February 1, 1924.

The General Motors Acceptance Corporation, in addition to the new service branch in Cleveland, soon will open branches in Buffalo, Washington, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Denver.

With the opening of these branches the Acceptance Corporation, which provides exclusive financial service for General Motors dealers and purchasers of General Motors products, will have twenty branches in the United States, one in Canada and one in London.

MIDDLE STATES OIL.

To S. A. S.—For Middle States Oil for the quarter ended September 30, net income was $755,973 after expenses, rents, field operations and new construction, against $1,033,532 for the third quarter of 1922.

JONES BROS. TEA.

To N. S. H.—Jones Bros. Tea December sales were $2,044,399, against $1,572,907 for December, 1922, and for the twelve months, $20,870,779, against $17,282,902 for 1922. Figures do not include jobbing and wholesale departments.

SILICA GEL.

To L. G. T.—If options are exercised in full $1,500,000 will be realized by Silica Corporation. Another $700,000 will soon be received from formation of European subsidiary. Warrants will be mailed to holders of Davison Chemical of record January 28 evidencing right to subscribe to one share of Silica Gel for each two shares of Davison held at $25 a share. [illegible] scription rights expire February [illegible].

U. S. STEEL.

To B. S. P.—Floating supply of U. S. Steel common as indicated by stock in brokers' hands was 1,048,313 shares, or 20.62 per cent. of total issue on December 31, a new low record. Investors' holdings were 4,034,707, against 4,024,000 September 29. Foreign holdings were 203,[illegible] against 210,79[illegible] September 29.

UNCERTAIN SPECULATION.

To E. Y.—We want very emphatically to [illegible] your attention to the undeniable fact that Otis Steel is nothing more than an uncertain speculation. During 1923 it ranged between $7 and $14¾, and is recently quoted around $9.50. Dividends are only a remote possibility. For a person who has only a few hundred dollars to invest we should think that it would be very inadvisable to go into this stock.

INTERNATIONAL PAPER.

To S. O. A.—Philip T. Dodge, president of the International Paper Company, is optimistic over the business outlook, but his optimism is tempered with a note of caution.

He said: "If I read the signs of the business sky aright the demand for news print will be strong throughout the year. This should spell prosperity for the paper making industry. But risk is of the essence of business. It doesn't pay to be too sure. The unexpected so often happens. It is best to make allowance for the fact that the future may not be as bright as it looks and so to organize your affairs that even the shock of adverse conditions cannot disturb you greatly."

SUGAR ESTATE.

To O. B.—Sugar Estate of Oriente, Inc., shareholders have approved the sinking fund plan to retire 8 per cent. cumulative preferred stock.

Get Expert Advice Before Trading in Stocks or Bonds

Before you buy or sell stocks or bonds you ought to get expert advice. You also need such information from time to time, as market conditions change, regarding your list of holdings.

FRANK AD AGENCY EXPANDS TO BOSTON

Albert Frank & Co., one of the oldest advertising agencies in the United States and internationally known and recognized in advertising and publishing circles, announced today the acquisition by purchase of the Derby Brown Company of Boston, a leading New England agency. Effective immediately the Derby Brown Company's office at No. 11 Avery street, Boston, becomes a major branch of the Albert Frank & Company organization serving directly the advertising and merchandising needs of the New England territory.

Frank J. Reynolds, president of Albert Frank & Company, in making public the news of the purchase announced that the personnel of the Derby Brown Company is to continue with Albert Frank & Company. "The addition of new facilities made possible by the highly perfected equipment of Albert Frank & Company," said Mr. Reynolds, "which became part of its Boston branch, combine in strength and versatility to meet every possible demand of New England commercial, financial and transportation advertising.

"This is of particular importance to Boston and New England business interests, as it affords a service completely qualified to fill every merchandising and advertising requirement. Derby Brown Company—a young, aggressive, fast growing organization—has achieved an enviable reputation for the planning and execution of many merchandise successes. Its skill among commercial advertising lines has brought to it as clients some of the most solidly established manufacturing concerns in New England."

STELLA DALLAS ❧ By Olive Higgins Prouty

New and Intensely Interesting Serial of a Marriage of an Educated Man to an Untutored Woman

HOW THE STORY STARTED

Stella Dallas and her husband, Stephen, do not live together. They have a daughter, thirteen years old, named Laurel, who stays most of the year with the mother. They visit a Summer hotel in New England, where the other guests look askance at the painted, overdressed elder woman. The time has come for Laurel to visit her father in New York. He meets her at the station and takes her to a hotel. She goes to visit Mrs. Morrison. The story now goes back to the marriage of Stephen and Stella at Milhampton. Stella starts a flirtation with Alfred Munn. The leading women of the town begin to drop her. Stephen, deciding he can never go back to her, starts a divorce suit. The story then goes back to Mrs. Morrison's marriage to her aged millionaire suitor. The latter dies and Stephen confesses his love to the widow. Stella and Laurel get in with a society set at a Summer hotel and Laurel goes canoeing with Richard Grosvenor.

WELL, what was to be done about it? Now that Stella knew the truth, knew that just her own personality, just her own five senses and the old hulk of a shell they lived in, was like an iron ball tied to Laurel's ankle (pleasant to learn that about yourself in the middle of the night, when you so wanted to be wings for your child) well—now that she had learned it, what was the next number on the program?

Laurel being a girl, the voices had said, couldn't escape, couldn't break the chain to the ball. Well, then (Stella's fingers very gently closed over Laurel's. She still slept—and she really did sleep now)—well, then— It would be pretty awful without her, wouldn't it? Dear little Lolly! Let's see, let's see. No. No other way.

A narrow ribbon of sunlight was shining into the berth through a crack by the tightly pulled window shade by Laurel's feet when she stirred and woke. Stella was waiting for her, had been waiting all night.

"Well, honey!" she said slightly. "Had a good night?"

Their eyes met.

"Splendid. Have you?"

"Great. Feel lots [illegible]"

Looking at Helen from the clock as she bent over her writing, she seemed not to have changed at all in the last four years, or in the fourteen years. The same young-girl slenderness, not the [illegible] thickening of neck and [illegible] hip or ankle, the same [illegible] slightness as she sat [illegible] on the edge of her chair, [illegible] was tilted forward on its [illegible] front legs.

What Is the Effect Upon the Two, and Especially Upon Their Strange and Beautiful Child Laurel?

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By HELEN ROWLAND

AN attractive bachelor's chief complaint against [illegible] these days is that the girl "fall for him" before he is there to catch them.

* * *

* * *

Many a man has returned home after slamming the door upon a bitter quarrel and found a note which he trembled to open, but which proved to contain nothing more amusing than, "Your dinner is in the oven" or "The salmon is on the ice."

* * *

Divorce is not the unmixed delight that some people fancy it to [illegible]. No matter how husband may have been, you miss him as you would an eye, a tooth or an arm—and even a poor eye, a bad tooth or a weak arm may be bitterly missed.

* * *

No woman can be a fascinating mystery to a man after he has seen her with her face in a mud mask and no man can ever again play the conquering "sheik" to a woman after she has nursed him through the toothache and seen his chin covered with lather.

WHAT THE STARS SAY

LUCKY DAY TO INVEST

ALTHOUGH the major benefic, Jupiter, is the ruler of this day, yet there may be quandaries and complications which may call for clever management. The inclination to worry or to become peevish or impetuous will not assist in unraveling these difficulties but, rather, cool judgment and attentive manipulation are needed. There is some threat of duplicity or treachery to be forestalled. There may be some slight cause for worry in home or heart affairs. It is a lucky day to invest.

TAKE SALTS IF STOMACH ISN'T ACTING RIGHT

Says Jad Salts Relieves Excess of Hydrochloric Acid

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather ferments, the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyperacidity, meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach. Then we can feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas; we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink it while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to help neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used for many stomach disorders with excellent results.

RUN-DOWN WEAK, NERVOUS

Benefited by First Bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lancaster, Pa.—"After I was married I became terribly run-down and was weak and nervous. My sister-in-law told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My husband got me a bottle at once, and it did me so much good that I kept on taking it. I began to feel well and strong again and was able to do my housework up to the time my baby was born—a nice fat little girl in the best of health. I surely am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends when they have troubles like mine, and I am perfectly willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. —Mrs. FRANK H. GRIMM, 533 Locust Street, Lancaster, Pa.

Women should heed such symptoms as pains, backache, nervousness, a run-down condition and irregularity, as they indicate some form of female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all these troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere.

A recent canvass reports 98 out of every 100 women are benefited by

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

Wyeth's Sage and Suphur Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray. Look young. Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

WHO SAID IT AND WHERE

"My early and invincible love of reading I would not exchange for the treasures of India."

The laws of nature take precedence over mere civil ordinances, as Lowell has noted in "The Capture."

Love, so the poets tell us, is hostile to a man's peace of mind as George Granville has noted in "The British Enchanters."

Man contains in himself a whole world of facts, says Emerson in his essay on "History."

"Love the sea? I dote on it—from the beach."

Was Douglas Jerrold's answer, found in "Jerrold's Wit," to an acquaintance who asked him if he liked the sea.

MEDBURY SAYS---

By John P. Medbury

THESE sticks come in any flavor from orange to garlic.

IT'S awful when you think that we can't even depend upon the kisses we get from our girl friends.

YOUNG MEN WASTE TIME AND SOIL THEIR MINDS WITH IMPROPER STORIES

Young man, you who like to tell a smutty story, and find a laugh in the simplest incident by turning it into something dirty at every opportunity, what would you think of telling those stories to your mother?

If your mother is a pure, sweet woman, you know that she would be shocked.

You may have some girl acquaintances to whom you could tell those same stories, but do you really respect a girl who would listen to them?

Does your mind work any better in the business world, in the college atmosphere, in the science rooms, in company where you are associated with the ones to whom you look up in admiration, for having spent some hours each week in such vile imagining?

Can you bear to get so accustomed to filthy insinuations that it is hard for you to look a really decent girl in the face?

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To restore brown leather bag, first wash the bag all over with plenty of warm water and soap to remove the dirt; rub dry with soft cloths, and then give it a good rubbing with a flannel moistened with oil (olive oil). Allow this plenty of time to dry into the leather, and afterwards paint it over with brown liquid boot polish, giving it at least three separate coats. When dry, apply a coating of white shellac. This treatment will restore its good condition.

* * *

In washing lace, remember to handle it gently, and never to rub. If the piece happens to be very dirty, use more washing waters. Rubbing destroys the threads.

* * *

A lump of sugar will take away the over-salted taste from dishes without leaving any taste of sugar.

* * *

* * *

To extract onion juice, press the raw surface of an onion against a grater, move its lightly, and the juice will run off the point of the grater.

* * *

* * *

FAMOUS ALIBIS

"I could have kept my New Year's resolution to stop smoking if I had wanted to, but the boys at the office started a rumor that I stopped because my wife made me. So, rather than have people think that she has me under her thumb, I took up the habit again."

"I'm sorry I made that mistake, sir—something has been bothering me. My little girl has been sick with the measles, and the worry and doctors' bills have kept my mind off my work."

"It wasn't my fault that I was late to school, Mother. That horrid Jones boy put snow down my back, and I stayed in the post office and got dry so I wouldn't catch cold."

"We can't pay the installment on the furniture today, my husband spent all his money on Christmas presents. Don't make a fuss about it and I'll pay you both installments the next time you come around."

"Sorry we couldn't get to church Sunday, Parson. You see, my wife has been feelin' poorly for the last month, and I thought it was only right for me to stay home and help her around the house when I had the chance."

EVANS SENDS IN LONG LIST OF STATIONS

Tells What He Picked Up on His American Super and Gives Dials

One of our old friends, J. G. Evans, of No. 54 Windsor road, Medford, comes along with a list of a few stations that he picked up on his American Super. He is using Se-Ar-De condensers (nine plate), with dials calibrated from one to one hundred, and coils wound with sixty turns and six turns.

Evans reports that there are a few calibrations on his dials that he hasn't used yet, and he won't be happy until he gets a station on each of them.

If you are using coils, condensers and dials like Evans', this list should help you to get stations.

FOR SOMERVILLE AND MEDFORD MERGER

Somerville Chamber of Commerce went on record last night in favor of Mayor Webster's plan to appoint citizens' committees of 100 from Somerville and Medford to consider the amalgamation of the two cities.

The chamber's meeting in G. A. R. Hall brought about lively arguments between Somerville citizens and two Medford aldermen, Earl E. Blake and Walter F. Harrington, who protested against the proposed union.

FIND FAKE REVENUE STAMPS IN RAID

Springfield, Jan. 15.—Charges of having large quantities of counterfeit revenue stamps were lodged against Manuel R. Hart, Ernest E. Hart and Harry H. Samuels on trial accused of illegal possession of liquor before United States Commissioner Gordon. Thousands of dollars' worth of alcohol flavoring extracts, and bundles of fake stamps were confiscated in a raid on Hart's Building at No. 471 Worthington street operating under the guise of factory.

STARS JUMP FROM STAGE TO WNAC

By M. A. SIMMONS.

Try working the set without the grid leak, and readjust your filament and B Battery.

If this does not produce the desired results, you may be sure that somewhere in your set your soldered connections are making a high resistance contact. That is, if you are using high grade parts in working order. Rewiring the set will frequently clear up the trouble.

Ninety per cent. of the failures are due to poor grade condensers, either the fixed or the variable, or both. Many dealers are passing our condensers for the Super which are nearly useless as far as distant reception goes. The following list of condensers are satisfactory: Waltham, Federal, General Radio, Cardwell (capacity a little too large for good tuning, but O. K.), Cogswell-Alden Manufacturing, Framingham, New Signal, Se-Ar-De, Coto Coil.

For audio transformers, use any of the following: Federal 65 or 226, United, Sampson, General Radio, Acme, American, Se-Ar-De, Connecticut, Coto-Coil, Chelsea, Jefferson, Paragon and others.

You will make your best set using Dubilier fixed condensers throughout. Don't use any paper condensers.

Just because I specified Federal parts throughout, does not mean that some other parts will not work as well in the Super. Federal was designated because their parts are dependable as a complete line. The best combination of parts take the Waltham, Federal, Dubilier, Klosner, United, Simmons, Na-Ald, Goodrich, Hard Rubber, Eby and good stiff bus bar.

REVERE WOMAN INJURED BY AUTO

Mrs. Ada McGowan, 55 years old, of No. 128 Broadway, Revere, was struck down on Page street by an auto truck operated by Anthony Nigro of No. 371 Revere street.

She received a possible fracture of the skull, a multiple fracture of the right leg and severe cuts. She was taken to the Massachusetts General

RUHR OCCUPATION HURTS N. E. MILLS

Waterville, Me., Jan. 15.—"The prohibitive price of raw cotton is causing a serious curtailment in the output of the mills of New England," declared William W. Quinton, agent of the Lockwood Cotton Mills of this city, in an address before the Rotary Club. Mr. Quinton said the French occupation of the Ruhr is having a direct effect on the cotton industry.

Complete Data on American Super in Booklet

The eagerly awaited booklet on the Boston American Super is on the way. It will be ready in a few days.

The booklet will have COMPLETE data on the construction and operation of these remarkable sets, including the Baby Super, the Super Dick, and the powerful Daddy Super.

There will be all the different hook-ups needed, full size panel layouts that can be used for templates for drilling the panels, photographs of completed sets showing arrangement of parts, instructions for winding the coils, and other features, all printed on high-grade paper.

WEAF SAID TO BE HOGGING THE AIR

Station Now Using Over 1,000 Watts to Overcome the Dead Area

With WEAF, the broadcasting station of the American Telephone Telegraph Company in New York, pounding away with more than a thousand watts of power, other New York broadcasters have begun to shout "Hog."

At WJZ, the Radio Corporation station, the officials say they have received hundreds of letters and telephone calls complaining of the way WEAF is hogging the air. WHN also reports many letters, and says the air is blanketed all the time WEAF is broadcasting.

Officials at WEAF, however, declare they are well within their rights and that their wave length of 492 meters is unchanged.

The increase in power was made in order to open up a "dead" area in Manhattan where WEAF was heard only by six and eight-tube sets.

In Boston WEAF has become a "local" station, as many crystal sets pick it up without difficulty. It is, however, not powerful enough to make it impossible to tune it out in favor of some other station.

FANS SENDING REPORTS FOR CONTEST

Many Long Lists of Stations Heard on American Super Are Received

In spite of the fact that conditions have been only fair the first two days of the American's Super contest, many contestants have filled out pretty lengthy reports of stations received.

The contest opened Sunday night, and will close Saturday night. Any night in that week may be selected as the night for reporting stations received. Or, if preferred, a report may be made every night, and the best report entered for a prize.

Every report entered in the contest should have the following information clearly indicated:

Winners will be announced just as soon as the lists can be checked over. In case of ties, the neatness of the reports will be considered.

RADIO AIDS SEARCH FOR LOST COLLIE

Medford Hillside Radio broadcast a description of a lost collie dog owned by Frederick W. Childs of Brattleboro, Vt. The collie was visiting Mr. Childs' daughter, Mrs. Ernest C. Young, No. 6 Emerson street, Brookline, and disappeared three weeks ago. The dog's name is Laddie.

NEWSPAPER TALK BY STAFF OF AMERICAN

Boston American Band, Under Gallo, Also in Debut at WNAC Tonight

Some secrets of newspapers and their why and hows will be divulged tonight from WNAC, the Shepard Stores Station, by three members of the Boston American staff.

These brief talks will be in addition to selections by the newly organized Boston American band, which will be heard tonight for the first time.

This band is directed by Stanislao Gallo, the well-known conductor. A pleasingly diverse program has been prepared for tonight.

Those who will describe some of the little known things about newspapers and their making are: Bert Ford, who will speak on "The Heart of a Newspaper;" Charles O. Power, subject to be announced, and the Rev. A. E. George, who will speak on "The Minister in the Newspaper."

This will be the beginning of a series of weekly entertainments by the Boston American band.

The Listener

Add to your tongue twisters the slogan of Frank Jones's station, 6KW, down in Cuba, "If you hear the coo of the cookoo, you're in tune with Tuinucu."

Old-time music seems always to go over strong, both in vaudeville and by radio. One of the best of recent hits was the old-time fiddling bee broadcast from WOC in Davenport. The fiddlers came from Muscatine and Riverside, Ia. It brought a tender feeling to many old hearts.

Radio Queries

While tuning in on my radio tonight I chanced to pick up a man speaking, but could not bring him in clearly until the closing of the station. I managed to hear him say, "This is IANN," and then I lost him. Could you tell me what that station was?

Peabody T. CARLSON.

Radio Editor:

I am enclosing you a hook-up of my radio set. Can you advise me what I can add to make it louder and to get greater distance. I am using a UW-200 tube. E. L. D.

Your set is non-regenerative. I would suggest that you insert a variometer between the phones and the plate of the tube.

Radio Editor:

Please tell me what station was broadcasting a dance program (jazz band) and signed off about 4:25 a. m. Friday January 11.

Brockton L. G. WILLIS.

Radio Editor:

How can I make holes in glass? What is the mixture of alcohol and resin? Is a power amplifier practical. Is tinfoil O.K. for shielding?

Cabot, Vt. G. B. ORNE.

Drill glass with ordinary steel drills lubricated generously with turpentine. One-third resin dissolved in two-thirds alcohol. Yes, but the American Super does not need shielding.

Radio Editor:

Malden. CARL MITCHELL.

This is probably WOO, Wanamaker's, Philadelphia.

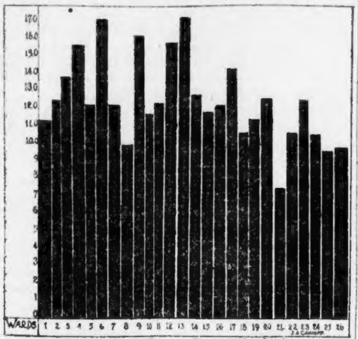
HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Mahoney



GENERAL DEATH RATE IN BOSTON BY WARDS.

By DR. F. X. MAHONEY, Boston Health Commissioner

BAD colds, grippe and pneumonia are caused by very small plants called germs that come from the mouths or noses of persons suffering from these diseases.

Dr. Mahoney

A person gets the germs into his body by inhaling the drops or spray that have been sneezed or coughed out into the air by the sick person; or else gets the germs into his body by placing into the mouth something that is soiled by the saliva of the sick person.

The germs do not poison a person when he is feeling well and strong as readily as when he is weak and tired and chilled.

Therefore, to prevent these diseases, A. Keep the germs from getting into the mouth or nose. B. Keep the body strong. C. If you get sick, keep the germs from others. A. To keep the germs from getting into your mouth or nose: 1. Keep away from persons who are coughing or sneezing. 2. Do not put into the mouth, fingers, pencils or other things except food. 3. Do not drink out of a cup others use, without washing it. 4. Keep away from crowds.

KEEP BODY STRONG

B. To keep the body strong: 1. Avoid getting hungry, tired and cold. 2. Sleep and work in rooms filled with fresh air, taking care to keep the body warm and to avoid drafts. 3. Eat plenty of simple, nourishing food and avoid alcoholic drinks. 4. Take as much exercise as you can in the fresh air. 5. Change your clothing with the weather and never let the body get too hot or too cold.

C. To keep germs from others if you get sick: 1. Cover your nose and mouth with a handkerchief when you cough or sneeze. 2. If you cannot get your handkerchief, turn your face away from others. 3. Keep away from crowds. 4. Wash the hands frequently. 5. Do not spit on the floor.

These precautions will also help prevent measles, whooping cough and tuberculosis.

It is not always easy or even possible to take all these precautions. Sometimes the resistance of our bodies is lowered in spite of our efforts and sometimes we get chilled or have to remain close to someone who is sneezing. The part to remember is that we lessen the danger of catching these diseases just in proportion as we take these precautions. Even a few precautions will help. Take those you can.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Question: A. A. of Milford says that he has been told that no medicine can cure catarrh and wants to know if this is so, also what is the best climate for such a condition.

Answer: Catarrh, so-called, may be due to very many different conditions. Proper treatment depends upon the condition. Often there is some condition about the air passages which can be removed by a surgical operation after which the so-called catarrh will disappear. A warm, dry climate may cause the catarrh to disappear, but this does not necessarily mean that some serious underlying condition has been removed.

Question: Mrs. P. F. H. states that her child has been vaccinated twice but unsuccessfully, and wants to know the reason.

Answer: Failures of vaccination to take are very frequent. They do not indicate that a vaccination properly done with fresh virus will not be successful. You should continue to make attempts to have your child vaccinated until you get a successful vaccination.

Answer: This is a condition which may be associated with many things. Your letter is too indefinite to enable me to tell just what may be wrong with your eyes.

Darn Good Paper at That

Editor Boston American:

It is a rare oportunity when a newspaper sticks out its chin and invites us to hit it as you have done. Anticipating that you may become conceited by the multitudinous and multifarious compliments you will receive, I am going to drag the cat right in your back door and turn loose both barrels. Don't you dare say anything about mixed metaphors until I get through with you. These are the charges I make against the Boston American:

1.—That you are breaking up the harmony of families in all New England.

2.—That you are driving the young people from the farms to the cities.

3.—That you are discouraging literary genius in this corner of our country that has always been noted for such men as Longfellow, Lowell and one I am too modest to mention.

On the first charge I demand to know where the editor got the idea of putting the ladies page and sporting page on opposite sides of the same sheet. Of course the climax of the ladies' story must come on the same date when the man is all worked up over some sporting event. When it seems to the editor that the ladies' page is not especially interesting, he puts the comic page opposite said sport section. So Mother, Sister, Father and kiddies are all clamoring for the same sheet. It has never occurred to the editor to put sports and finances on the same sheet.

Charge number 3 is sustained, as this gem of literature is already slipping toward the waste basket. May it poison the bottle of hootch you have concealed there. JACK VORIS.

Star Theatre, Van Buren, Me.

P. S. It is a darn good paper at that. J. V.

A Kissing Heroine

Editor Boston American

If a girl permits a young man to kiss her good night he thinks she is soft and refuses to play a return engagement. If she refuses to be kissed, he thinks she is as hard as nails and again remains away. The girl who can hold a fellow nowadays without swapping kisses is a genuine heroine. FRITZI SMITH.

Better Divorce Laws

Editor Boston American:

In thinking about the divorce laws of this country, the following came to me as a possible remedy:

To draft a Federal law, making it compulsory for individuals to secure their divorce within the State in which they were married, regardless of their residence.

Also to make it compulsory for each State to recognize and uphold a decree obtained in another State.

The results for good can readily be seen in this way, so there can be no jumping from State to State to obtain a divorce easily and without just cause.

RESCUE WOMAN FROM CHINESE BANDITS

Pekin, Jan. 15. — Mrs. Julina Kilen, American missionary kidnaped by bandits who raided Tsaoyang, Hupeh Province, about two weeks ago, has been rescued, according to advices received here from Major John Magruder, military attache of the American Legation.

Mrs. Kilen was with Professor Bernhard Hoff and Mrs. Hoff when the bandits raided the mission at Tsaoyang. Both Professor Hoff and his wife were wounded, and Professor Hoff died of his injuries. Mrs. Hoff is expected to recover. The Hoffs and Mrs. Kilen were missionaries of the Church of the Lutheran Brethren of the United States.

HITCH IN PLAN FOR SCOLLAY SQ. CHANGE

Boston merchants with places of business on lower Tremont street, on Court street or in Tremont Row were today not so strongly in favor of removing the subway pagoda from the middle of Scollay square, when they read the alternate suggestion that the entrance to the subway at that point be bricked over and foot passengers diverted to Adams Square.

The Scollay square entrance to the subway is used daily by 28,000 persons. The Finance Commission calls it a street encumbrance and wants entrances and exits removed to sidewalks nearby.

Six public boards and commissions and four city officials are giving their best thought to the problem, recognized as an important part of the project of widening Cambridge and Court street, following a two-hour conference in Mayor Curley's office.

It all looked simple enough until Transit Commissioner Louis K. Rourke, an engineer of more than national reputation, called attention to the fact that the Scollay square station of the subway is an "island" station, with the platform in the centre and the tracks on both sides.

"Dig an entrance into the subway from the sidewalks," Commissioner Rourke said, "and you will walk down stairs onto the trolley tracks, instead of onto the platform."

"But," said somebody else, "you can run the stairway straight down part of the way and then bridge the tracks. Why not?"

THE HELPING HAND

Clothes For Aged Couple

Editor Helping Hand:

Will you please send me the address of the "Aged Couple Penniless," sent in by Mrs. E. J. P., in Thursday evening's paper. I have a warm suit and dress for the lady, a shirt and some other things for the old gentleman. I also enclose a check for five dollars to put in the Helping Hand Fund to use as you see best.

MRS. N. M.

Many thanks indeed. You have been sent Mrs. E. J. P.'s address, and the five dollars has been added to the Fund.

Offers Baby Bed

Editor Helping Hand:

I have a baby's new bed, a high chair and a kiddie car, for any mother in need. MRS. D.

Thank you. You have been sent the address of Mrs. M. C., mother of seven children and expecting another. Her husband has been out of work for eight weeks, and the family is hard put to it to arrange sleeping quarters.

Clothes For Baby

Editor Helping Hand:

Please send me the address of Mrs. A. T. 2., or if she has been supplied, send me the name of some mother in need of baby clothes. I have a few that might help some one. They include two silk and wool shirts, two silk and wool bands, two silk and wool petticoats, two sleeping garments, three Summer shirts, and a few other things. MRS. H. S.

Thank you. You have been sent the address of Mrs. W. S., whose husband is working only three days a week.

Family Almost Destitute

Editor Helping Hand:

My husband has been out of work since last August and I have been sick for fourteen weeks. We have hardly any bedclothes. We have two children and expect another soon. I have nothing for the new one to wear. I wonder if any kind reader could send me some clothes for my little girl four years old. My husband needs an overcoat badly, size 38 or 40. I wear size 40. Only for the mayor, we would starve, as he gives us what we eat.

Lynn. MRS. M. R. 3.

Plenty of Work for Jack the Giant Killer, and He Can Do Real, Not Imaginary Giant Killing

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

The giants of today haven't long beards with hairs as thick as iron bars, and they do not say, "Fe, Fo, Fi, Fum."

But they are giants none the less, even though some of them be small and baldheaded, and, instead of saying, "Fe, Fo, Fi, Fum," hire lawyers to go into court for them and say, "Non vult contendere." There are big giants on the earth now, much more expensive to the people at large than the biggest imaginary giants would have been, had they really existed and been able to eat a thousand oxen in a day.

We have real giants that put a tax on every ox that the people eat, a tax on every chicken, barrel of flour, ton of coal, pound of sugar, on every steel rail, every gallon of oil.

These giants that tax are more powerful, far bigger "eaters" than were the imaginary giants of childhood.

There is lots of work for Jack the Giant Killer in real life to do in the United States now.

Unfortunately, the genuine giant killing Jacks are rare. The modern giant recognizes Jack the Giant Killer when he sees him—and he usually hires him or controls him in some way; and soon Jack the Giant Killer becomes Jack the Giant Admirer or Jack the Giant Representative in the Legislature.

Giants still live, and big financial, industrial giants are not the only ones among us. There are others more harmful to the human race than the biggest giant of monopolistic extortion.

The real giants, those that die slowly, that, in fact, never have been killed, are the giants that live in the world of thought.

Another big giant in the world of thought, the giant that sits in the high places and has his feet on the homes of man, is the giant of Superstition, multiplying hatreds, brutalities, and keeping back brotherhood among men.

But, fortunately, big and powerful as they are, all are smaller than they have been in the past.

The newspapers, the publishers of books, keep old Giant Superstition worried. His hold grows feebler upon the brains of men, and those that make a livelihood through Giant Superstition are worried with cause, and do not like newspapers that tell the truth or books that give facts.

As knowledge combats superstition, prosperity combats drink.

The giants are still here, the big giants that have had their feet on the heads and homes of men through the ages. The only giants that ever lived we still have with us, big and powerful, but luckily, not as big as they were once.

You cannot wake up any more, find a beanstalk growing outside your window, climb up and terrify the giant tribe. But with your talking and your voting, you can be a useful part of the real giant killer, which is the sum total of human intelligence and conscientious citizenship.

The Habit of Buying Bonds

Don't Lose It. It Means Peace of Mind Later

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

During the war bonds were bought by at least fifteen million Americans who never before bought a bond or made any similar investment.

Patriotism made money savers and bond buyers of millions.

Common sense, preparation for the future should continue these citizens as buyers of bonds and savers of money.

Keep up the habit of buying bonds. Read the advertisements of bond issues that are printed. And if you keep the bonds, looking upon them as insurance for your old age, you will find yourself independent in the end.

You can buy the bonds of this government with your eyes shut, of course. They will always be good, for if they are not good, nothing in the United States will be worth a dollar. But when you buy other kinds of securities, always giving bonds the preference, take the advice of a reputable man that knows. See him, or write him, ask his advice.

Keep away from the fraudulent so-called "stock" offered at a low price with a promise of tremendous profits. The sellers will get your money. Nine hundred and ninety-nine times out of a thousand you won't get it back, and you won't get any profit.

Buy good bonds first, stocks that have for twenty years or more been paying dividends second, and take the advice of an honest banker before you buy unless YOU know all about it.

But do NOT give up the habit of saving and investing.

Remember the story which is taken from an old book of fables. Aesop wrote that fable in Greece more than two thousand years ago. La Fontaine wrote it again in clever French verse in the days of Louis the XIV., and Aesop the Greek got it probably from some fable writer of India.

THE STORY OF THE GRASSHOPPER AND THE ANT

The ant saved and accumulated all Summer. The grasshopper spent the Summer singing. When the cold weather came he went to the ant and said, "Let me have some food."

"What did you do in the Summer time while I was working?" asked the ant.

Replied the grasshopper, "I was singing."

Said the ant, "Oh, you were singing, were you? Very well, dance now," and he closed his door and the poor grasshopper froze.

Observe the difference between the grasshopper and the ant, between the man who saves and the man who does not.

LISTEN, WORLD! -:- By Elsie Robinson

WHY shouldn't Bill smile at the little blonde across the street when he takes you out for your Sunday walk—even if Bill happens to be your husband of ten years' standing and the father of your four children? If such exuberance is the natural overflow of a nature like Bill's, why shouldn't he do it?

Yes, I'm asking that seriously. It isn't a trivial question. It digs into the very foundations of married life. As you feel about Bill's smile at that blonde, so you will feel about everything else that concerns you and Bill. So, how DO you feel about it?

"It's outrageous!" you say. "It's an insult to me. What right has he to flirt with another woman when I'm with him, or any other time? Even if it isn't downright wrong, it's silly and vulgar—I should think he'd be ashamed of himself. Noticing every pretty girl that comes along—and most of them aren't pretty, at that! Bold, painted things!"

Is that the way you feel? Pretty natural way to feel—but is it a very wise or fair way to feel? Let me tell you about Florrie Walton. Florrie was a notary before she married Ed Walton. As you come to know men fairly well in that job, Florrie didn't have any particular illusions about her Ed. She knew he was one of those cheerful idiots who just naturally romp after everything they meet, like good-natured puppies. But he adored her and she adored him, so she took her chances on the romping.

They have been married eleven years, and they're happier today than on their honeymoon. Ed actually eats out of Florrie's hand. But—if during those eleven years there has been a pretty skirt which Ed didn't see, it was because he had a cinder in his eye. Blonde, brunette or henna, they all look good to Ed. You'd have to set his smile in cement to keep it from straying when a lively girl happens by. To make it stronger, Florrie isn't pretty. Just one of those plain, comfortable women. You'd think she would be furious with Ed, and that her fury would be double-edged, because she herself has failed to make the beauty grade. But not a bit of it.

"It's this way," she says when her lady friends remonstrate. "That flirting is just a natural part of Ed. He was born that way, just as he was born with red hair and a pug nose and a liking for fried onions. He smiles at a pretty girl exactly as he says 'Um!' when he smells fresh doughnuts. There's no harm in it. But if I tried to curb and repress it, there'd mighty soon be harm in it. He'd begin to feel that he was misunderstood, and look around for someone to comfort him. And it would be my own fault. If I'm so evil-minded that I've got to read vice into perfectly natural playfulness, then I deserve to lose him."

But that explanation doesn't satisfy Florrie's friends. They're positive that she is breeding a tragedy for herself. "Some day she'll wake up and find he's been deceiving her! Just see what happened to Clara Smith and Janet Rogers. Believe me, I watch my husband.

Yes, they watch them. And the more they watch the more they distrust. Well, if you bring a dead rat into a house you may expect the air to become polluted. They brought the dead rat of jealousy and evil thought into the house of their marriage, and it is fouling all the place.

Which wifely policy do you prefer?

THE HELPING HAND

Letters Not Answered Personally. No Attention Paid to Telephone Calls or Anonymous Letters. No Names Published.

Need Clothes Badly

Editor Helping Hand:

I have been reading a great deal of the good you are doing for poor people. I wonder if there is any space for another family. My husband has been out of work for nearly a year as a result of poor health. All I get is five dollars a week from the city to live on, and with that I have to try to feed six children, my husband and myself, and buy fuel and food. Anything in clothing will be a God-send to us. The boys are eleven, ten and eight, and the girls are five, two and a half, and three months. I wear size 38.

MRS. C. A.

$15 For Fund

Editor Helping Hand:

I read each evening your column in the American, and believe me, you are doing good work in ministering so many unfortunates who are worthy of assistance. I am enclosing my second contribution to the fund, and trust it will encourage one or more to continue the struggle.

NUFF CED.

Many thanks for all you are doing. The fifteen dollars you enclosed has been added to the Helping Hand Fund. It is a great comfort to have something for those very needy cases where the delay of a published appeal would be a hardship.

Family of Six In Need

Editor Helping Hand:

I am writing to ask if someone has some children's clothing that they could give me. I have six in the family, four boys and two girls. The boys are twelve, eleven, six and two, and the girls are nine and seven. Their father has been sick and unable to work since early in the fall, and I have mended and patched until there is nothing left. I cannot buy clothes on the small sum of ten dollars a week that the city gives me. The oldest girl is a cripple, so I am unable to work myself. I would like to get some night work, as it would help me out for a while. If anyone has a warm dress size forty or forty two, I would be glad to get it. M. E. P.

Will Contribute Weekly

Editor Helping Hand:

Enclosed please find two dollars which please give to Mrs. E. B. 2. Kindly send along her address and I will contribute weekly to make her burden more pleasant.

J. J. M.

You are very kind. The two dollars is being forwarded her, and you have been sent her address.

For Expectant Mother

Editor Helping Hand:

I have a few things that would be of use to an expectant mother or one with a very young baby. They are: two muslin slips, two flannel nighties, two all wool gertrudes, three flannel sacks, one wool jacket, two shirts, two bands, two straight bands, three pairs of wool stockings. I will be glad to mail these to anyone you consider worthy.

MRS. H. H. W.

Thank you! You have been sent the address of Mrs. J. T.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON DECEPTIONS THAT ARE HARMLESS

By Dr. Frank Crane

THE magician is not necessarily a faker.

Deception is harmful only when it claims not to be deception. One who deceives you but tells you beforehand that he is going to deceive you is really doing you a service and increasing your knowledge of the truth.

The world has always been preyed upon by charlatans and liars. But the damage these gentry have done has been in proportion to the degree to which they have convinced the public that they were not deceiving at all.

The magician who performs his tricks because his hand is quicker than your eye, because he knows forces and laws that have escaped your attention, because he can demonstrate how imperfect are your powers of observation, really does more toward exposing the fakers than anyone else.

One of the greatest living magicians is Houdini. He once remarked that he had never seen a spiritualistic medium do anything by his alleged occult powers that he as a magician could not do by mere skill.

The belief in luck, charms, occult powers and spirit accomplishments has done increditable harm. It has influenced minds and spread many septic fears.

To see a skilled magician do his wonderful performances and to know that they are all carried on by plain cunning and sleight-of-hand is the best antidote for the depression one receives from sitting in Queen Alice's parlor and watching the ectoplasm.

Harry Houdini might be called a trickster. In fact he calls himself that. But this simply means that he is honest. He is really a man of superior attainments. He has one of the largest libraries extant dealing with subjects of human deception. He has written many books. He is extraordinarily gifted physically. His muscular power and nerve control are amazing.

But all this natural equipment, knowledge, skill and experience he does not use to bolster up any false claims to supernatural power. He is entirely justified in using his abilities for the entertainment of the public and in making the public pay for it. But the public knows exactly what it is getting.

But in addition to this it seems to me that he and other legitimate magicians are doing a real service to the community in demonstrating the failure of the argument that simply because you do not see why a thing takes place therefore it must take place because of some ghostly power.

The very foundation of sound thinking is to believe that there is a natural cause for every result. The magician helps establish this foundation because he convinces us that the cause is there even when we cannot see it.

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON ABUSE OF LANGUAGE

By Garrett P. Serviss

IT is a duty that everybody owes to help all he can to keep his mother tongue pure and undefiled. But it seems to be a duty very little regarded. Between carelessness, ignorance and the itch for innovation and novelty, the English language in common use has became rather badly smirched of late, and the evil shows a menacing rate of increase.

This is seen, among other things, in the rapid spreading of the use of objectionable words, either new words or old ones employed with a modernized sense. Let it be understood that I am not objecting to newness in itself, as it is the inevitable attendant of all progress. On the other hand, however, newness should never be worshipped for itself alone. It is only an accidental quality, and possesses no inherent or original value.

Sheep Habit

The sheep habit of imitation, fatal to critical and independent judgment, is the chief cause of the rapid spread of innovation, without regard to the question whether they are desirable or undesirable, helpful or injurious. To be specific, take a word which is now catching and spreading like an epidemic disease, the word "stress" used as an active, transitive verb, as for instance: "He stressed the study of foreign languages," instead of "urged," "advised," "advocated," "recommended," "contended for," or any phrase by means of which the same idea could be as well, or better, conveyed.

"Stressed" has a disagreeable sound and an ugly look. It seems to me that no one having a keen sense of euphony, as well as of the essential meanings of words, could ever employ it in that way. Study a few examples:

I take up the first newspaper at hand and find, in a report of a meeting where the quarrel of the "fundamentalists" and the "modernists" was the subject of discussion, the statement that a speaker "stressed the need of a revival in the church." Elsewhere I read that another speaker "stressed a warning."

This misusage of a word excellent in its true place and function, is to be seen everywhere—in new books, in magazines, in reviews, in Congress speeches that were born in print without vocal delivery, in scientific reports, etc. The rush to grab the solecism suggests a bargain counter, or the eagerness of all the me-toos to don the latest color.

As to any necessity for such abuse of an old word that has long served well in its proper sense, there is none. Nevertheless, if it were a very pleasing word in sound and looks, and if it had a suitable connotation, it might be welcomed in its novel dress, because no language can be too rich in synonyms. But "stress" does not possess these qualifications. Its sound is not particularly attractive, while its root meaning implies mechanical force.

Astonishing

That, by the way, may account for what I believe to be a fact, viz.: that it was in a scientific publication that the verb "to stress," in its present objectionable guise, was first noticed like a spark setting fire in a dry stubble-field. To a mind too much absorbed by scientific technicality a verb with a strong mechanical connotation might easily seem to possess the ne plus ultra of expressional power. But it is decidedly a matter for astonishment when writers who take pride in measuring themselves by literary standards consent to be led astray by so distressful a usage.

However, the very popularity of "to stress" may, by excess, put an end to its use. It is not beautiful enough to serve as its own excuse for being; and we hope to see this powerful word in good time, retire into its substantive form, where alone its sinewy limbs and rugged aspect are calculated to awaken respect and admiration, and where it is but seldom seen or heard by the untechnical multitude.
